

Poughkeepsie Sources Are Vague About Cascio

Held in Slaying

Wife of Air Force Sergeant Says Man Came From There; Faces Charge of Conspiracy on Jet Plane Secrets

Mrs. Guiseppe Cascio, 44, wife of a 34-year-old U. S. Air Force staff sergeant, charged with conspiring to sell secret information on America's top jet plane in Korea to the enemy, said today that he was originally from Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Cascio, now acting as a nurse and companion to a widowed friend at Tucson, Ariz., told the Associated Press that she and Cascio "never got along." They were divorced once, she said, "and I foolishly married him again."

Enemy Not Identified

The air force announcement did not identify the enemy. Presumably it referred to the Communists, and an air force officer said the secret information was contained in films of the souped-up F-86-E jet fighter, which has racked up a victory margin over Russian-made MIG-15s in Korean air battles.

Cascio was a photographic laboratory technician with the 49th Air Base Group. He doubled as a photographer and handy man, and is a veteran of nine years in the air force.

What He Deserves

Mrs. Cascio, who was formerly a cocktail waitress at a Tucson hotel, said: "Anyone who does anything to undermine this nation deserves whatever happens to him." She gave his Poughkeepsie address as 101 Albany street, but it was indicated today, he was not too well known in that city.

Father Hasn't Heard

In Poughkeepsie Cascio's father, Salvatore, said he had not heard from his son in some time. Usually, he said, Guiseppe wrote him about once a month but he had not heard from him since before his arrest Sept. 21.

Cascio's brother, Salvatore, Jr., said:

"I don't believe it, knowing my brother as I do."

Cascio had a good record in World War 2, his brother said, winning the Distinguished Flying Cross with Oak Leaf Cluster as a bombardier. The brothers served together, Salvatore as a ground crew man and Guiseppe as a bombardier.

"He never gave any indication of any love for any country except the United States," Salvatore said. "Anything about spying always sickened him. I know he always hated such things."

The air force said Cascio obtained the secret information from Sgt. John P. Jones of Manchester, Mass. Jones was attached to the Far East Air Forces headquarters in Tokyo.

Jones and Cascio were arrested Sept. 21. A medical board later declared Jones insane and he was shipped back to the U. S. No court martial charges have been filed against him.

Cascio, if convicted, could be sentenced to life imprisonment. No date or place for his court martial trial has been set.

The charge against him says Cascio "did wrongfully offer for sale to unauthorized persons classified information."

Ferry Will Continue

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry will operate to the end of the year, if weather permits, the New York State Bridge Authority announced today. It has been the authority's intention to continue service each year until Jan. 1, but only about twice since it has operated the service, has the weather been satisfactory.

Karel Svab Says He Covered Plot to Work Against Reds

Becomes 13th to Confess Acting in Opposition to Communists in Czechoslovakia

Vienna, Austria, Nov. 25 (AP)—Karel Svab, 13th former top Communist to confess before a Prague court, in the current Czech purge trial, admitted today that as former deputy security minister he covered up a widespread anti-Moscow conspiracy.

Svab is one of the three non-Jews among the 14 Reds on trial for plotting to overthrow the government of President Klement Gottwald.

Only one defendant—former Deputy Defense Minister Bedrich Reicin—remained to be heard as the trial of former Communist party boss Rudolf Slansky and his associates neared its end.

Radio Prague said that Svab, 48, admitted he was a member of the "Titoist type" conspiratorial group led by Slansky. In his job, he said, he protected the criminal activities of the "Trotskyites, Zionists and Bourgeois Nationalists."

He had made it possible, he said, for British and American spies to operate in Czechoslovakia and he had placed "enemy elements" in the security organization.

The broadcast said that Oswald Zavodsky, former commandant of the state security forces, had testified against Svab, but also had incriminated himself by stating that he had helped the former deputy minister.

Zavodsky said he placed "traitors" in his positions in the state police.

Comment Is Made

Western charges that the trial has strong anti-Semitic overtones drew comment from the Communist newspaper Rude Pravo.

The paper indicated that the Communist organizers of the trial were attempting to prove that all Jewish capitalists were "Zionists, traitors and anti-Semites" while the average Jewish worker was anti-Zionist.

"The Communists" said Rude Pravo, "are uncompromising opponents of anti-Semitism. But the present-day bourgeoisie in Israel leads the workers away from the struggle against capitalism. The Zionists made pacts with the greatest enemies of the Jew, Hitler and Mussolini."

Although 11 of the Slansky groups are Jews, Rude Pravo reasoned: "These people who worked with Slansky were anti-Semitic. The Zionist organizations in Czechoslovakia, were nothing else but a Fascist fifth column."

Markets Will Be Closed

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Financial and commodity markets throughout the United States will be closed Thursday, Nov. 27, Thanksgiving Day. Canadian and European markets will be open as usual.

Reins Are Shifting

The reins of organized labor are shifting to new hands. Several of the country's biggest individual unions have changed leadership in recent months, as well, paving the way for a new crop of union chiefs.

Just a few weeks ago Dan Tobin stepped down as head of the million-member AFL Teamsters Union, being succeeded by 58-year-old Dave Beck, teamsters boss on the west coast.

Murray's death also vacated the presidency of the CIO's Steel Workers Union. A protégé of the late president, David J. McDonald, who had been the union's secretary-treasurer, was selected to fill the steelworkers' top job, temporarily at least.

The sudden shifting of the organized labor leadership to younger men has stirred some speculation that new moves may crop up to merge the AFL and CIO into a single federation.

However, there has been little support for the idea among the labor leaders since the deaths of Green and Murray. John L. Lewis, 72-year-old president of the United Mine Workers who is unopposed for a new four-year term, long has publicly advocated the merger of all the nation's labor unions.

Ike, New Agriculture Secretary

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower escorts Ezra Taft Benson, his new Secretary of Agriculture from his New York office after naming Benson to his cabinet. Benson, 53, from Salt Lake City, is a former official of the National Council of Farm Cooperatives.

Taber, Ike's Aides Expected to Meet

School Cafeteria To Be Ready Soon

Opening Scheduled After Thanksgiving Vacation at Kingston High

The new cafeteria in the high school is expected to be ready for use after the Thanksgiving recess of school. Whether the cafeteria will be opened on December first or not until the following week will depend on the progress of work. Robert Herzog, chairman of the Building Committee stated today. It is hoped the work will have progressed to a point where it can be put to use following the opening of the school next Monday.

Plans to use the cafeteria early in December when "Red" Barber will be the speaker at the annual AA banquet have been made.

Using Auditorium for Gym

Since alterations in the cafeteria have been under way the municipal auditorium facilities have been placed at the disposal of the high school. The former gym and old cafeteria is being remodeled into a modern and adequate department of cafeteria use.

Erection of the new field house at the high school where all physical education programs will be carried out have made conversion of the old gym in the high school possible.

Commissioner Herzog said today that it was hoped the department could be used on December first, but at this time the opening date was still in question. He explained that the December 8 date was perhaps more logical.

Are in Disagreement

Boston, Nov. 25 (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, says he and his son, Sen.-elect John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) are "in complete disagreement" on foreign policy. "I couldn't possibly have a worse argument with anyone about foreign policy than I have had with my son," he said.

He left the Cooperative Council last night. The former ambassador said he is an "isolationist because I don't think the kind of help we're giving has produced anything like the results it was supposed to produce."

Visits UN Headquarters

His schedule for today continued sharply with the tightly packed program he has been following since he returned last week to his offices in New York.

Yesterday, he visited the United Nations headquarters, met with the vice-president-elect, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, talked with Benson and Adams, and held conferences with a number of business and political figures.

In addition to the above wage rates, a night shift differential has been added.

President Might End Say Future Price, Wage Control Is Nobody's Business

Shipyard Workers To Get Increases Subject to WSB

Boosts Range From $1.44 to $1.60 Daily, Affect Three Yards, 700 Workers

An estimated 700 employees of three local shipyards will receive wage increases ranging from $1.44 to $1.60 per day and other benefits under an agreement announced today. Provisions of the agreement are subject to approval of the Wage Stabilization Board.

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent, announced today that the Kingston Metal Trades Council of the American Federation of Labor and three local shipyards have reached the agreement after several negotiating conferences. The shipyards are C. Hiltrebrand Dry Dock Company, Island Dock, Inc., and Reliance Marine Transportation and Construction Corporation.

Are Retroactive

The agreement provides for wage increases ranging from $1.44 to $1.60 per day, retroactive to the payroll period beginning Oct. 5 of this year, Yerry announced. This increase will bring the daily wage rate for first class mechanics up to $15.20 per day with a corresponding increase in lower brackets.

The three companies also agreed to six paid holidays a year—New Year's Day, Decoration Day, July fourth, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. There were no paid holidays prior to this new agreement.

A trust fund will be created under terms of the agreement of four cents an hour for each hour worked by each employee up to a maximum of 2,080 hours per year per employee. The fund will be used to provide payments of $35 a week for time lost due to sickness or accident not covered by Workmen's Compensation; $1,000 worth of life insurance; $1,000 for accidental death or dismemberment; $11 per day for up to 31 days for hospitalization; $165 for miscellaneous hospital benefits; $240 for surgical benefits and $25 for diagnostic X-rays and other treatment.

Close to New York Rates

The new wage rate schedules will bring the local shipyard rates to within 10 cents an hour of the New York harbor rates, Yerry said.

Every effort will be made by the parties to the agreement to secure "early approval" of the Wage Stabilization Board to provisions affecting costs, he added.

The new scale adopted provides a basic hourly rate of $1.95 for lead men; $1.90 for mechanics, second class; $1.65 for mechanics, third class; $1.45 for helpers, first class; $1.33 for helpers, second class, and $1.25 for laborers.

In addition to the above wage rates, a night shift differential has been added.

Woods Resigns His Stabilization Job—Might Come Prior Jan. 3

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—A quick end to all price and wage controls by order of President Truman was seen as a possibility today in the wake of two major developments:

1. Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, said in a broadcast (Mutual) from Charleston last night he has information Truman is considering doing away with such controls by executive order before Jan. 3.

2. Tighe E. Woods resigned as price stabilizer. His resignation, peppered with criticism of Congress for providing a controls law which Woods contended favors "special interests," reached Truman today.

The White House declined comment on Maybank's statement, but Roger L. Putnam, economic stabilization director, said: "So far as I know, there is nothing to it."

"I have information that the President is now considering doing away with price and wage controls," Maybank said when interviewed asked him if he thought the Republicans would do away with such curbs.

In reply to other questions, Maybank said this would be done by executive order, and before the Republican-dominated Congress takes over Jan. 3.

Rejection Seen as Red Blunder

The timing of Moscow's rejection of India's compromise proposal for a Korean truce may go down in history as a serious Soviet blunder. But the Kremlin probably considered itself forced into the hasty rejection.

The Soviet move could have been predicted with confidence—but not the time element. There is no question Moscow dictated the orders hurriedly. Satellite Poland's delegate suddenly called off his plans to speak on the proposal yesterday. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky wanted to speak, and in a hurry.

What Vishinsky had to say indicated several things:

1. The USSR is not interested in peace in Korea, but simply in talking about it.

2. Moscow did not believe there was a real British-American split over the Indian proposal, but looked upon the differences as a (Continued on Page 19, Col. 2)

Tax Agents Are Instructed To Ease Things for Payers

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Revenue Bureau has instructed its field offices to make things easier for taxpayers when paying time comes 'round next year.

Outlining a new program to go into effect from Jan. 1 to March 17, Assistant Commissioner of Internal Revenue Justin Winkler told field offices in a letter made public today, that taxpayers must find a "new and improved service" this time.

Winkler emphasized that by tax time an eight-month reorganization of the bureau will have been completed, and taxpayers seeking help with their returns will have "their first real opportunity to observe how reorganization affects them personally."

Tax officials not only expect to give better service, but they expect more work: There were some 54 million tax returns last year and the bureau expects from 57 to 58 million this year.

Winkler made these down-to-earth suggestions on how tax offices should help simplify things for taxpayers:

1. Don't close the door in the face of taxpayers just because official office hours are over.

2. Man telephones to answer queries in the evenings, during lunch hours and on Saturdays. All offices to stay open until midnight the last night before returns are due.

3. Put out some chairs and benches for those who have been standing in line, and make sure there are chairs for all the aged and infirm.

4. Monitors should be on hand to question puzzled taxpayers before they leave.

Statement Rules Out Acceptance of Plan Worked Out by UN or Unified Command

May Work on Ike Plan Seems to Indicate Move to Implant Idea on Visit

United Nations, Nov. 25 (AP)—South Korea announced today it would not accept any truce arranged by the United Nations against its wishes. President Syngman Rhee's foreign minister indicated that his government believes Korea's future is nobody else's business.

In a formal statement, Minister of Foreign Affairs Y. T. Pyun said:

"The government of the Republic of Korea cannot and will not accept, against its wishes, any arrangement or agreement or resolution in regard to the disposition of what is considered to be its citizens or part of its historical domain, made or reached or adopted without its official and full participation with the unrestricted exercise in similar matters of exclusive concern to themselves."

On Eve of Visit

The statement, which appeared to rule out acceptance of a truce worked out by the UN General Assembly or the Unified Command, was made on the eve of a scheduled trip to Korea by President Eisenhower.

Korea has gone all out to plan welcomes for Ike and it appeared that the government would attempt to put this view over with him.

The general has already expressed general agreement with the Truman administration principles for negotiating a truce.

South Korea is not a member of the UN nor is it taking part in the negotiations at Panmunjom.

The South Koreans here issued a booklet two weeks ago strongly denouncing UN truce efforts and calling for complete liberation of both North and South Korea and the creation of a UN-armed force of two million Koreans.

Liberation Basic Idea

In a speech to the UN's Political Committee, South Korea's chief observer also said the only end to the war which his government could accept was the liberation of all Korea and the creation of an international demilitarized zone in Manchuria to protect the border.

He denounced all resolutions now before the committee for ending the Korean conflict.

Today's statement was significant in three ways:

1. It reiterated the position that the disputed prisoners-of-war—who the Communists say must be sent home—are considered by the Pusan government to be its citizens.

2. It reiterated the South Korean demand that the UN conquer North Korea and reject a truce line near the 38th Parallel.

3. It insisted on South Korea's "exclusive right" to make the final decision.

The South Korean statement was issued as UN members tried to get priority for an Indian plan on breaking the prisoner of war deadlock. The plans were pushed despite Russia's flat rejection of the Indian proposal.

Should Be Endorsed

These delegates said even though the Russians had rejected the plan, they felt the Assembly should endorse it and leave it up to the Chinese Reds and North Koreans at Panmunjom to accept it or face world censure by turning it down.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky yesterday crushed the widespread hopes here that India's V. K. Krishna Menon had found at least a formula for ending the deadlocked POW issue holding up a Korean armistice. The Russian denounced the Indian (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Designated Secretary of Agriculture Is Trained Specialist in Marketing

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is expected to build its farm-aid program largely around efforts to broaden markets at home and abroad.

This became apparent today with President-elect Eisenhower's selection of Ezra T. Benson of Salt Lake City as Secretary of Agriculture to succeed Charles F. Brannan, a controversial figure in the Truman official family.

Benson is a trained specialist in agricultural marketing, and as such believes farmers would need less federal aid if they did a better job of marketing their products.

Benson's designation fits into a long-standing Republican contention that farm programs of the Roosevelt-Truman administrations depended too heavily upon production controls and subsidies to hold up farm prices and not enough on measures to broaden foreign and domestic markets.

Republicans have promised to continue farm price support programs, but they argue that need for them would be greatly lessened if new markets and outlets for farm surpluses could be developed.

Benson said in New York yesterday he agreed with Eisenhower's farm policy statements and the GOP party platform on the subject, but he declined to discuss specific programs except to say he favored some price supports.

During his campaign, Eisenhower advocated prices guaranteed by the government. The GOP platform pledged a farm policy "free of socialistic controls" and a program aimed at "full parity prices for all farm products."

Parity is a price declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products. Eisenhower pulled something of a surprise on farm leaders by selecting Benson, who had not been prominently mentioned for the post.

Benson headed one of the major national organizations—the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives—between 1939 and 1944, but that was at a time when agriculture was faced more with the problem of producing enough for war needs rather than a problem of overproduction.

He left the Cooperative Council post in 1944 to become an apostle for the Mormon Church.

The new secretary could be expected to make a number of shifts in policies and administrative organization.

He is expected to:

1. Place greater emphasis on use of the cooperative idea in attacking farm problems of production and marketing.

2. Urge farmers to follow a practice of depending more on local selfhelp and less on federal aid.

3. Place special emphasis upon measures aimed at showing farmers how to become more efficient producers and marketers.

4. Make greater use of state-controlled agricultural extension services than have his "New Deal" and "Fair Deal" predecessors. Under the latter there has been a great deal of rivalry and antipathy between the state services and the Agriculture Department.

Court Cases Heard By Judge Cashin

William Henry Jones, Catskill, charged with grand larceny, first degree, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, had his case moved over the term in County Court Monday afternoon on motion of Charles Saccoman, assigned counsel, who told the court that he desired more time to prepare for the trial since the charges were of a serious nature and Jones already had three prior convictions. If found guilty on the present charge, Jones would have to be sentenced to a term of from 15 years to life under the statute. In view of the seriousness of the case, Saccoman asked for time to properly prepare the defense.

Jones' plea of guilty was continued and Judge Cashin directed counsel to be ready to proceed at the February term.

Case Goes to February

In the case of Lincoln Hornbeck Judge Cashin put that case over on his own motion until the February term. Judge Cashin said it would be necessary to secure additional jurors if the case was tried now since each side had 20 challenges which might be exercised. There remains only three more days in which the present term may sit as Supreme Court opens next Monday. In view of the short time remaining and the fact that selection of a jury and bringing in of additional jurors would require time, he notified Harry Gold, counsel, that the case would have to go over and he set it down for the first case in February. Bail was continued.

Robert Nelson, Jr., entered a plea of guilty to the second count of an indictment charging him with assault, second degree, and illegal possession of a firearm. On the plea of guilty to possession of the firearm, Judge Cashin imposed a jail sentence of 57 days, the time already served and Nelson will head back to Florida from whence he came.

Carchidi Dismissed

An indictment against James Carchidi, Kingston, charging grand larceny, first degree, was dismissed by Judge Cashin after a hearing for defendant and explained that the charge grew out of misuse of funds secured on mortgage to erect a residence. Gaffney said there had been no intent to violate the law but a chain of circumstances involving loss of work, increased cost of the house and other facts had led to the indictment. The Kingston Lumber Company submitted a letter stating it was not interested in pressing the case and that Carchidi had confessed judgment to the company in the amount due.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Turkey prices were trimmed a few more cents a pound this week in a sizzling competitive scramble for the trade of families stocking up heavily for Thanksgiving Day feasts.

This left the holiday gobblers averaging 2 to 8 cents a pound cheaper than at last Thanksgiving-time. All sizes were in liberal supply, from the little four-pound "broiler turkeys" intended for couples with apartment-sized ovens, to the big 40-pound Toms popular for church suppers.

Chain stores reported a larger proportion of oven-ready turkeys were being ordered this year. Some stores also said they were doing a bigger business in turkey parts — breasts, second joints, drumsticks, giblets, wings, necks and backs. More ready-to-roast turkeys were offered already stuffed, and some even came cooked, with bags of gravy ready to be heated and poured over the meat.

The A & P food stores, leading poultry distributor, reported that Americans now are eating twice as much turkey as they did a dozen years ago. Per capita consumption is expected to reach 5.6 pounds this year, against 2.6 pounds in the pre-World War 2 years.

Fixin's Are Reduced

Prices of many of the Thanksgiving Day dinner fixin's also were reduced for the big holiday trade this week—but a check of sample market-basket prices showed that aside from turkeys and other meats, food costs as a whole were averaging slightly higher than a year ago.

Cranberries, up as much as 14 cents a pound in many areas, showed one of the sharpest gains, reflecting a drought-reduced crop.

Celery, sweet potatoes, good tomatoes and onions were others higher than last year, while olives, fruit cakes and many cheeses were lower.

Housewives could almost plan their holiday dinners around the week's shopping specials being stressed by the majority of stores: Shrimps, oysters, turkeys, chicken, ducks, smoked hams, plum roasts, stuffing bread, several vegetables but especially potatoes, sweet potatoes and celery, olives, pumpkin and mince pies, plum pudding, pie crust and cake mixes, cider, grapes, apples, figs, dates, dried and candied fruits, nuts, cheeses—even egg nog.

Retail prices of several pork cuts declined 2 to as much as 10 cents a pound and some lamb cuts were down slightly this week, compared with last. But other-wise meat price changes were generally confined to the Thanksgiving Day specials.

Egg Prices Are Off

Eggs were off 4 to 8 cents a dozen in many marketing areas as supplies increased faster than even the holiday demand.

On the fresh produce counters this week, pascal celery was cheaper, plentiful and of excellent quality. Tangerines were down somewhat as shipments increased. Otherwise most changes were upward and affected artichokes, snap beans, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, mushrooms, peppers, spinach, sweet potatoes, oranges and grapefruit.

The Agriculture Department announced this list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying in December: Turkeys, pork and pork products, raisins, domestic dried figs, oranges, grapefruit, table grapes, tree nuts, carrots and dry baby lima beans. Also, frozen cod fillets, butter milk, cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk solids, lard, salad oils, table fats, vegetable oils and honey.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—A flurry of buying attention put gold mining issues ahead today in the stock market.

The overall performance of the list, however, could be called steady at best.

Price changes ran from around a point lower to between 1 and 2 points higher.

The attention paid to the gold section came from the Canadian government's proposal to increase the subsidy paid to Canadian gold producers.

And, as usual, there were optimistic or wishful predictions that the United States government might increase the price of gold from the present $35 a fine ounce.

Advancing were Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Southern Railway, Gulf Oil, Homestake Mining, Dome Mines, Benguet Consolidated Mines, Eastman Kodak, Chrysler, Boeing, and Douglas Aircraft.

Good Weather Predicted
Albany, Nov. 25 (AP)—The weather man today predicted a chilly Thanksgiving Day for the Empire State, but temperatures generally above freezing.

Ernest C. Johnson, meteorologist in charge of the Weather Bureau here, said he expected temperatures to range from the upper 30s to the low 40s and skies to be partially clear in most of the state, after two days of rain.

Snow flurries and lower temperatures were forecast for Thanksgiving in the Great Lakes and mountain regions. Rain fell much of the state tomorrow and tomorrow night.

QUEEN O' THE HEATHER—Mary Lou Mortensen, drum major of the University of Iowa's all-girl Scottish bagpipe band, proudly wears the crown she received when named "Heather Queen" at Riverside, Ill. Mary Lou reigned as queen during the 107th annual Feast of the Haggis, sponsored by the Illinois St. Andrew Society. She and her band received an award for their part in fostering better relations between Scotland and the United States.

Educational Film Ready for Teachers

Plans to present Passion for Life, a French moving picture, were announced yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee of the Mental Health Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. This 16 mm. film is available from the New York Mental Hygiene Department to professional groups only. It is the story of a teacher who changed a whole town, including the lives of its parents and pupils—the story of triumph over fear, slander and loneliness. The 35 mm. version of this educational film has been well received by the public. It has had a long run in New York city and has been highly recommended by the Child Study Association of America.

Doctors, teachers, nurses, clergy, and social workers will be invited to this showing which will be held at the George Washington School on December 8 at 8:30 p. m. The chairman, Dr. Edward F. Shea, has called a meeting of the Mental Health Committee for 7:30 p. m., preceding the showing of the film.

STILL "CAMPAIGNING"—Igor Federo Fedorowski, 5, didn't bother with trying to "get around" the law. He just ducked between the legs of one of Washington's finest, to catch a glimpse of President-elect Eisenhower, during his recent visit to Washington. Igor, who came from Germany two years ago, looks forward to the time when he can help elect a president.

NEW PRESIDENT'S AIDE?—Brig.-Gen. John H. Michaelis, 38, above, has been mentioned by Pentagon officials as being a prominent candidate for the position of White House Military Aide, when President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower takes office. Michaelis, Korean war veteran, at present is commandant of the West Point Cadet Corps.

How to Carve Your Turkey

Carving your Thanksgiving turkey with poise and skill always adds pleasure to Thanksgiving festivities. It's easy if you follow these simple suggestions, according to the New York State Turkey Association.

Preliminaries—Plan the roasting time so that your turkey comes out of the oven at least 15 minutes before you start to carve. This will allow plenty of time for the meat juices to be absorbed.

Have the following under easy reach: A platter large enough for the sliced meat, a good carving set and a large spoon for the dressing. A two-tined fork and a knife with a long sharp blade will do, if a carving set is not available.

To start the carving, tip the turkey on its side with the breast toward the table. Then follow these steps in the exact order listed.

Remove the Wing Tip and the First Joint. Grasp the wing tip firmly with the fingers, lift and sever between the first and second joints. Place the wing tip and front joint portion on the side of the platter, as this part is not ordinarily served. Leave the second joint attached to the bird.

Remove the Drumstick. Grasp the end of the drumstick and lift it up and away from the body, disjoining it from the thigh or second joint of the leg. To slice the meat from the drumstick, hold it upright at a convenient angle and cut down toward the plate, parallel with the bone. Turn the drumstick to make uniform slices.

Remove the Thigh Bone. After anchoring the fork where it is most convenient to steady the bird, cut slices of thigh meat parallel to the body until the bone is reached. Run the point of the knife around the thigh bone, lift up with a fork and use fork or fingers to remove the bone. Then slice the remaining thigh meat.

Slice the White Meat. Begin at the front end of the turkey and slice until the wing socket is exposed. Remove the second joint of the wing. Continue slicing until enough white meat has been provided.

Remove Stuffing. Slit the thin tissue in the thigh region with the tip of the knife and make an opening large enough for a serving spoon. The stuffing in the breast may be served by laying the skin back onto the platter.

Note—The method outlined here can also be used for carving half and quarter turkeys.

Family Supper

Here's a menu for a nice family supper: Baked meat loaf with tomato sauce, whipped potatoes, canned green beans, shredded lettuce salad with French dressing, raspberry gelatin with sliced bananas, and milk, tea or coffee. Serve bread with butter or margarine, with the main course, of course.

Also aboard the Transport Gen. John Pope, will be Cpl. Thomas A. Constant of 23 Grant street, Walden.

EXTRA-SPECIAL DINNER ROLLS

Piping hot home-made rolls and plenty of butter, a dish of your own strawberry preserves—is there anything better?

These days it's really no trick at all to have this good yeast bread, even if you've never tried your hand at "raised rolls".

Here's an old-time recipe with a new twist—new inasmuch as it uses nonfat dry milk solids or "dry milk" as most of us call it. It makes a delicious loaf of bread as well as rolls of your own designing. We've made half of the dough into Parker House Rolls, the other into a golden brown butter-crusted loaf.

BUTTERCRUST DOUGH

- 1 cake yeast
- ¾ cup lukewarm water
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 cups lukewarm water
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 3 cups flour
- ¾ cup nonfat dry milk solids
- 3 cups flour (for dough)

Add yeast and sugar to lukewarm water. Let stand 5 minutes. Add butter, sugar and salt to water. Sift 3 cups flour and nonfat dry milk solids. Add to first mixture and beat well.

Using from the extra 3 cups flour add enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on board dredged with part of remaining flour. Knead until smooth and elastic, turning dough from bottom up in round center, and adding additional flour gradually but before dough becomes too sticky to handle. Continue the kneading until dough is light and elastic, with a surface satiny and full of blisters, and which springs back when pressed with fingers.

Place dough in buttered bowl; turn over immediately so that buttered side is on top. Cover with clean cloth and let rise in a warm place (about 85°) until doubled in bulk. Punch down and let rise a second time.

Cut dough into halves, round into balls, cover and let stand 10 minutes. Shape into loaves and place in buttered bread pan. Brush tops with melted butter, cover with a cloth and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake at 400°, for about 40 minutes. Makes 2 one-pound loaves.

Rice, Meat Dish Takes Prize

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

"Country Captain" combines a young hen and a wonderful sauce to produce a prizewinning Creole recipe. I was the judge who awarded first prize for it in the meat and rice category to Mrs. Harold W. Larcade at the 1952 International Rice Festival at Crowley, La., recently.

Crowley, in the heart of the rice-producing section of Louisiana, stages each year a gigantic festival to celebrate its bumper rice harvest. I flew 2000 miles to serve as a judge and I think I sampled enough rice dishes to keep a large family content for a year.

The recipes were all Creole, derived from traditional recipes of the early French and Spanish families of Louisiana.

Mrs. Larcade, mother of two children, was born in Alabama. She never won a cookery contest before. Here's her first-prize winner:

Country Captain (Serves 4-6)

One large young hen, 1 large can tomatoes, ¼ cups peas, 1 can mushrooms, 1 stalk celery, 1 large onion, ¼ pound butter, 1 clove garlic, ¼ teaspoon thyme, 2 tablespoons curry powder, 1 hot rice ring.

Melt butter in a large pot or roaster. Fry chicken until browned on all sides. Chop celery, onion and garlic. Add to pot together with tomatoes, peas, mushrooms, thyme and simmer for 3 or 4 hours, turning hen occasionally. Serve in ring of hot rice.

Optional—Sprinkle currants and chopped almonds on top.

We gave second prize in the meat and rice group to Mrs. C. B. McCorkle for this recipe. It makes a delicious meat-extending main dish.

Mrs. McCorkle's Baked Stuffed Tomatoes with Rice and Meat (Serves 5)

Remove seed and pulp from four firm tomatoes and one green pepper. Save pulp. Salt inside. Meanwhile melt two tablespoons of margarine in saucepan; add ½ cup diced celery, one diced green pepper and one large onion, chopped. Cook until tender, then add one pound ground beef meat and cook well.

Next, add pulp from tomatoes and let simmer for about 15 minutes. Add a dash of salt, dash of pepper and teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. When well cooked, add two cups cooked rice. Then stuff tomatoes and the pepper shell and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about ½ hour. Serve at once.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, bacon and eggs, raisin toast, butter or margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Baked stuffed tomatoes-Creole, enriched bread or rolls, grapes, quick-mix cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: "Country Captain" in rice ring, crusty bread, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, French dressing, apple pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Donation Is Made

Berlin, Nov. 25 (P)—The western allied commandants donated 200,000 marks ($47,620 today) as a Christmas gift for needy West Berliners. Mayor Ernst Reuter thanked Maj. Gen. Lemuel Mathewson of the U. S. and C. F. C. Coleman of Britain and Gen. Pierre Carolet of France for the "noble-minded gesture."

Green Slate Blackboards

Eaton, Pa. (P)—A new, green, natural slate chalkboard has been developed by a firm in Northampton county, major source of all slate blackboards for classroom use. Colorite, the name of the new board, is a carborundum base, wear-resisting coating especially bonded to virgin quarried slate blackboards, according to a recent announcement by The Stoddard Corp. of Bangor. The new board is said to be free from glare and affords excellent contrast and readability and has a life expectancy of from 15 to 25 years.

Shoulder lamb chops taste good braised with tomato juice, sliced onion, sliced carrot and a bay leaf; season well with salt and pepper.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 25, 1952

BOLD ATTACK ON HIGHWAY PROBLEM

While public officials, highway engineers, safety specialists and others point with mounting alarm to increased motor traffic and increased traffic fatalities, no really comprehensive solutions are being formulated.

Billions are being spent yearly to improve and add to the nation's highway system. But we are not even keeping up. Roads crumble faster than we can fix them or build new ones. The number of cars on the highways and streets rises so rapidly that some new roads are outmoded almost before they are in use.

Traffic in many of our largest cities is really out of hand. At many hours of the day, to call movement by automobile "transportation" is a travesty. Defense officials are genuinely worried about the outlook for movement of men and materials should another big war ever come.

In this context, General Motors' newly announced Better Highway Awards are a welcome thing. GM's list of $194,000 in prizes is designed to stir more nation-wide thinking, discussion and understanding of our highway needs. The awards will go for the best ideas to get our traffic system out of its crushing difficulties.

The motor makers are, of course, aware that if matters don't get better soon, the appeal of the automobile as a device for getting places may fade. That is their selfish concern.

But GM merits full credit for sponsoring a bold attack on the problem. Fresh thinking is what we need. If we get just 10 good new ideas, their whole outlay will be money well spent.

Gold used to be used as a measuring stick of value. Now we hear people saying that something is "worth its weight in beefsteak."

SPIRIT AND BOMB

The reports that the United States has succeeded in unleashing the dreadful fury of a hydrogen bomb cannot be expected to soothe the nerves of a world already too tense from the extended cold war and the fear that World War III may be incubating in Korea. There has been no definite announcement that such a bomb has been exploded but reports from Eniwetok indicate that a weapon many times more effective than the atomic bomb as we know about it was demonstrated there recently.

It was once predicted that the coming of the cross-bow would make war unthinkable. The discovery of gun powder was a herald of doom for faint-hearted souls and later others saw the end of the world in the invention of the airplane. In every age there are some who seem to get a morbid satisfaction from the prophecy that men are about to vanish from the face of the earth.

Upon Americans, more than upon any other people in the world today, rests the heavy responsibility for leadership toward peace. It is necessary for us to be strong and that strength depends in part on our possession of the horrible instruments of modern warfare. But we also need a moral strength so great that it will make us as worthy as mortals can be of the power that has been thrust upon us. The universe which produced men with intellects keen enough to solve the mysteries of nature and release such tremendous forces must surely have produced men capable of averting the catastrophe of another war. We must cling to that belief.

The Daily Worker is losing money. Apparently the Red journal isn't read well enough to keep it in the black.

GAMES FOR GANGSTERS

Chess might solve the problem of the young hoodlum. Julius Zirinsky pleads in the New York Times for that paper and others to devote more space to chess. If it were really advertised, many lads could be persuaded to take an interest in the game and stay out of the streets.

Whether or not chess is the answer to the gang problem, wholesome recreation undoubtedly is. Playgrounds and boys' clubs

SOME CABINET APPOINTMENTS

Of the various names that had been suggested for secretary of state, only John Foster Dulles had any Far Eastern as well as European experience. He has known Far Eastern affairs intimately and for a long time. Co-author with Senator Vandenberg of the so-called bi-partisan foreign policy, he entered the State Department as a Republican, only to be disillusioned by the policies and practices of the Democrats, who usually acted first and consulted afterwards. He was an important factor at the San Francisco Conference where the Charter of the United Nations was written. He arranged the Japanese Peace Treaty and tried to establish an Asiatic alliance which would have included Formosa.

John Foster Dulles's grandfather, John W. Foster, was Secretary of State in the Administration of President Benjamin Harrison. His uncle, Robert Lansing, was Secretary of State under Woodrow Wilson. His brother, Allen Dulles, was active in the OSS, particularly in the efforts to shorten the war by revolution in Germany against Hitler; he is now the number two man in the Central Intelligence Agency.

Dulles will bring to the State Department not only a broad personal experience but a family tradition of international relations based upon the assumption that America must not be sacrificed. His view, often written and spoken, must have the full support of General Eisenhower who is not buying a pig in a poke. In fact, with the exception of Herbert Hoover, no Republican has so often presented his party's position, which, while never isolationistic, has also never been so internationalistic that America is to be regarded as nothing more than a fat cow to be milked until dry.

While commitments made since 1938 cannot be abandoned, it may, with some confidence, be expected that policies will be re-appraised and put on a more realistic basis in which the survival of the United States, as a great power, will not be subordinated to the necessities of all other countries without due regard to our own.

General Eisenhower's appointments thus far represent not so much political appointment as a regard for efficient operations. C. E. Wilson, of General Motors—who must be identified in this manner to distinguish him from the C. E. Wilson of General Electric—will bring to the Department of Defense, the capacity for organization and production which that department has not had since it was founded.

James Forrestal was the founder and imaginative spirit who envisioned the concept of a unified military establishment. He gave his life to that cause. Louis Johnson had to battle against difficult opposition for a program designed by the President which not only proved unpopular but which was wrecked by the Korean War. General George Marshall was neither by temperament nor tradition suitable for a civilian post and spoiled a great reputation in the three such posts he held. Robert A. Lovett has done an outstanding job.

It is fortunate that he will be followed by C. E. Wilson, who has the advantage of being a production man rather than a banker. It is on the production side that our defenses are weakest, despite our superiority in productive capacity.

General Eisenhower has pledged himself to eliminate waste in the Armed Forces. As a commanding general and as a former chief-of-staff, he understands the nature and reason for waste. He puts at the head of the national defense one who has long been associated with one of the best managed productive companies of the United States. It is to be assumed that what General Eisenhower has in mind is the application of the most tested principles of management to the problems of national defense. One of the difficulties that the civilian heads of defense establishments encounter is that the general and admirals insist on their methods and their specifications as the only ones that will work; otherwise the country will be conquered and lost forever. It will be difficult for any military man to tell that to General Eisenhower. It will be equally difficult to tell that to C. E. Wilson who is even now sitting on the other side of the table, making what the army has ordered. This combination of knowledge brought into defense ought to be unbeatable.

Defense and State Departments have had a way of fighting over foreign policy. It is not likely that C. E. Wilson will invade John Foster Dulles's domain. (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

TREATMENT OF HEADACHE

While constipation is one of the commonest ailments known to man, statistics tell us that headache is the commonest.

As to the causes of headache, I have personally counted over 150 whereas some physicians have been able to count over 200 causes.

I have written before of the value of an ergot preparation, ergotamine tartrate, and of the great success recorded by Dr. Mary O'Sullivan in the treatment of migraine (one-sided headache) by ergotamine tartrate (trade name, gylgergen). It is not surprising, therefore, to learn of the successful treatment of various types of headache by ergot preparations.

In the Swiss Medical Journal, Basel, Switzerland, Drs. M. & S. Staffeneger report their results by use of hydergine (a mixture of three hydrogenated ergot alkaloids) which was given a trial in the prevention of chronic refractory (stubborn) headache in 11 women and 50 men. Of the 161 patients, 95 had vasomotor cephalgia (headache from blood vessels in head), 37 had genuine migraine, 17 had headaches following injury (post-traumatic), and 12 had genuine trigeminal (tic doreux) and headache—neuralgia—at back of head (occipital).

Hydergine was given by mouth and treatment was started with 5 drops, three times daily after meals; the dose was then progressively increased until 25 drops (1.25 mg.) were given three times daily for three weeks; the whole course of treatment lasting from 9 to 11 weeks.

Of the 161 patients, 12 (7 per cent) were cured, 40 (25 per cent) were improved temporarily, 29 (18 per cent) were improved, and 51 (32 per cent) were unchanged. "The patients with genuine migraine (one-sided headache with nausea and vomiting) responded best to hydergine. Of the 161 patients, only 29 had mild reactions such as loss of appetite, diarrhoea, constipation, palpitation of the heart, dizziness, and fatigue. These reactions were so mild, however, that only 2 had to stop taking hydergine.

While the exact brain disturbance causing headache is unknown, it is thought to be due to a widening or dilation of the blood vessels of the brain and an increase in the force behind the heart beat. As ergot preparations such as hydergine close or contract blood vessels and this tightening or partial closing of the blood vessels thus prevents dilation and may be why hydergine gives relief in this type of headache.

are far cheaper than policemen, and far more effective.

The idea of putting aside something as a "nest egg" for the future began more than three hundred years ago. Nowadays the custom is merely to try to hang on to enough to get by to the next pay day.

One for the Road

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Eisenhower's top advisers have hatched smart strategy for dealing with Democrats in the Senate. Through it, they expect to control a majority of southern Democrats in the Senate for at least two years, possibly longer.

Their strategy is to play ball with the southern Democrats and not attempt to build up the Republican party in the deep South. Ike-advisers figure that if they butter-up men like George and Russell of Georgia, Eastland and Stennis of Mississippi, they will cooperate on Eisenhower's legislative program.

However, they will employ a completely different strategy in the border states, plus Florida. For in these states—Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland, and Oklahoma—Eisenhower either rolled up sizable margins or won. In these states, therefore, Republican strategy will be to organize locally as diligently as possible with the hope of making them definitely Republican in the next election.

But in Virginia, where Eisenhower will seek to keep the favor of Senator Byrd's friends, and in the deep south, GOP strategists figure that Democratic senators think and vote pretty much as Republicans anyway, so the best strategy is to court their favor.

Mae and Dwight

It's just leaked out that the only man who can talk turkey to General MacArthur and get away with it—General George Kenney—made an eleventh-hour plea to the proud MacArthur to let bygones be bygones and endorse his former military aide, Dwight Eisenhower, for President. But MacArthur shook his head, sat sullen and silent in his Waldorf Tower until the last election returns were in.

Only a few insiders know about General Kenney's last-minute appeal, which he made three days before the election. He was put up to it by New York's Governor Tom Dewey, who had already tried to win MacArthur over to the Eisenhower bandwagon through such GOP stalwarts as ex-President Herbert Hoover and House Leader Joe Martin. Both had failed to heal the old rift between MacArthur and his one-time aide.

However, the man who has always been able to tell off MacArthur and still make him like it, is the runt-sized, weatherbeaten Kenney. MacArthur's air commander in the South Pacific. So Dewey dispatched the retired air force general to MacArthur's Waldorf Tower apartment to make a final appeal.

"Boss," urged Kenney, "why won't you come out for Eisenhower?"

MacArthur spoke grandiloquently of his obligation to his loyal followers who were still supporting him for president.

"Those California radicals," snorted Kenney. "If you string along with that gang, you couldn't be elected dog-catcher."

The blunt-talking air force general argued, pleaded, and cajoled. "Look," he said, "it's only a five-minute walk from here to Eisenhower's suite at the Commodore."

"And it's only a five-minute walk from the Commodore here," replied MacArthur.

That ended the conversation. Probably the breach between the two men now never will be healed.

Cabinet Notes

New Attorney General Herbert Brownell, writing as guest columnist for the Washington Merry-Go-Round Aug. 23, 1945, said: "The inside story from Republican leaders is that the Republican party will win control of Congress in 1946. Put that down as one of this column's 'predictions of things to come'."

Brownell, then chairman of the Republican National Committee, proceeded to make his predictions come true. Brownell began politics as Tom Dewey's successful campaign manager in the race for governor of New York in 1942, has been close to him ever since, watched Dewey's racket clean-up in New York, should do an equally good job in cleaning up federal corruption.

Brownell is one of the closest men to Eisenhower, was given the job of handling patronage, will fly with him to Korea. At the Chicago convention, novice Eisenhower leaned on Brownell heavily, used to say: "What do we do next, Herb?"

George Humphrey, new secretary of the treasury, is the nearest thing to an Andrew Mellon since Mellon himself ran the treasury. Humphrey is chairman of the Mellon-dominated Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., one of the biggest in the world; also heads the Mark Hanna Co., a Great Lakes ore concern; the Iron Ore Co. of Canada and the Industrial Rayon Corp. Though a tough trader, Humphrey once helped John L. Lewis a record 45-cents-an-hour wage increase, plus welfare fund for the United Mine Workers shortly before the 1948 campaign year. Some critics said he was trying to swing the miners over to the GOP.

One of the first things new Attorney General Brownell will have to do is handle an anti-trust suit involving one of his cabinet colleagues—Charles E. Wilson. It's the huge monopoly suit against the duPonts, also involving General Motors and U. S. Rubber. Organized labor now sings the praises of new Defense Secretary Wilson. His escalator, cost-of-living contract with the United Auto Workers not only made history but increased the prestige of U. S. labor-management relations around the world.

Senator Cabot Lodge, Ike's original campaign manager, wasn't unhappy about not being secretary of defense. He and Eisenhower both felt that he lacked executive experience, was better suited to be a roving ambassador or a Harry Hopkins.

John Foster Dulles will change few officials in the State Department. Despite McCarthy's charges, most State Department officials have long been Republican or career men.

New Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay, now governor of Oregon, will have a tough problem dumped into his lap right after he takes office Jan. 20.

In the Truman budget being sent to Congress just a few days before, there will be listed a large number of important reclamation and waterpower projects of vital importance to the far west.

This is the type of project which McKay, as governor of Oregon, has favored. For on the whole he has been an advocate of public power, irrigation, and reclamation.

Yet, as a member of the Eisenhower cabinet pledged to cut the budget, he may be called upon to cut these important western projects.

The program which retiring Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman is taking pains to put in the budget includes:

The Klamath river project, which rises in Oregon and whose waters will be used for reclamation extending all the way through California down to the Imperial valley. This is one of the most important projects in the entire west. Total cost—$3,293,050,000.

The Kings river project (north fork) in central-southern-California—estimated cost $196,300,000.

The Sacramento canals—providing for more California irrigation by diverting water from the Sacramento river and the Trinity river. Total cost $104,510,000.

The Trinity river project, also in California. Estimated cost based on 1951 prices—$207,334,000.

These projects are sure to attract the pruning knives of Senator Taft and eastern Republicans pledged to cut the budget. However, Senator Knowland of California, a staunch Ike-supporter, and the new secretary of the interior will be under terrific pressure to start the construction which the Truman administration proposes. Eisenhower 'Appalled' at Great 'Mess,' Not Size of Task He Faces

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 25—President Truman said the other day that General Eisenhower was "appalled" when he learned the inside story of the problems facing the nation—but it turns out that it wasn't their enormity or serious nature which "appalled" the President-elect. It was the "mess" in which he found the relations of the United States with the rest of the world.

This deterioration in public policy, if known to the public, would "appall" the American people and, in due time, as Congress delves into the subject, much of the truth will come out. Briefly it means that the absence of firm policies, the lack of resoluteness at top levels, the incompetence of certain persons charged with important duties have all left in their wake an international mess that will not be cleaned up overnight.

This doesn't mean that the situation is acutely critical or that what has been lost is irretrievable. It merely means that the competence of certain persons charged with important duties have all left in their wake an international mess that will not be cleaned up overnight.

The chief defect on the policy-making side has been the tendency to improvise on a day-to-day basis rather than on a long-range basis. General Eisenhower and the man he has designated for secretary of state believe in careful planning on a long-range basis.

Many of the difficulties in our relations with other countries are due to inconsistencies and short-term steps and sudden shifts which make it impossible for other nations to understand clearly what the United States is driving at.

The Eisenhower administration is determined that there be a revision of American world policies so that other governments will have a clear-cut understanding of American purposes.

Among the things that stand out today is the deterioration in the European situation, especially on the continent in connection with NATO matters. When General Eisenhower was in command of the United States Army, he was with the leaders of other governments. General Ridgway, his successor in the NATO setup, has moved along conventional lines just as a military commander might ordinarily do. This has meant a neglect of some all-important relationships with other governments in Europe.

The policy level. It is being pointed out here that the way General Ridgway has operated has been in accordance with his instructions and that no criticism can be made of him for his acts of omission. But criticism can be leveled, nevertheless, at the officials here who failed to see the way in which things were drifting abroad.

There have been stories emanating from the administration about how grim the situation is and how unprepared General Eisenhower is to meet it. That was the impression Mr. Truman and his advisers sought to convey. But the fact is the President-elect knows Europe better than most people in the Truman administration, and his associate, John Foster Dulles, knows the Far East better than anybody in the present government. Both men are absolutely confident they can deal with the situation. The only regret is that there has been such a drifting, leaderless, rudderless and at times purposeless expression of the American attitude so that foreign governments have gotten the feeling the United States Government doesn't know what it wants or what it is doing.

Perhaps it will take months to clean up the mess and the confusion, but in due time the foreign governments will learn that the United States has a definite policy and a program, and that America isn't going to spend its billions in the hopeless task of buying goodwill, but means to proceed on the most hopeful premise that an alliance involves a responsible obligation which is mutual and not one-sided.

The details of what President Truman and General Eisenhower said to each other probably will never become known, but the psychological impression created upon the mind of the President-elect has become known to his friends. The general was appalled that so little had been done on so many things that should have been done long ago. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The admission of James McGranery, our attorney general who is qualifying for his varsity letter in these last seconds of a crooked game, that we can't get rid of an alien gangster because a friendly neighbor won't take him back, should not be the last word in this type of problem.

The one who is in that of Allen Smiley, a wet-back from Windsor, Canada, who became a leader of that element which J. Edgar Hoover, in a memorable turn of phrase, called the criminal Hollywood underworld. This underworld, in turn, has political relations with the underworld of government in Washington.

The Hollywood cult fields a bad influence on government and public morals, because it actually has had access to the White House, Congress and the Department of Justice ever since 1933. Dismissals of indictments, pardons and premature paroles have been commonplace in this relation.

Smiley, like Willie Bioff, was a beau around Beverly Hills where cutting scrapes and domestic lamp-throwing reached a fetching climax in the who-dunnit assassination of Bugs Siegel as Smiley sat beside him on the couch looking at Virginia Hill's post card album. Smiley's criminal record is established beyond question and his status as a member of the Siegel-Greenspun underworld clique, which ran the Flamingo at Las Vegas, is verified in the annals of the FBI. The FBI also has the criminal record of Herman Greenspun, of Brooklyn, who recently muscled into Nevada politics under the strange patronage of Drew Pearson in an attempt of mysterious eastern forces to cut down Senator Pat McCarran.

Greenspun studied law in the New York office of Vito Marcantonio, the nearest thing to an avowed Communist ever to sit in our Congress.

Pearson's resort to Communist leg-men or stooges in the quest of official secrets in Washington, is a notorious fact. One of Pearson's Washington lawyers turned up in Nevada to prosecute a lawsuit by Greenspun against McCarran and others. These developments set forth Pearson's friend Greenspun, the registered ex-convict, in his relation of advisor to Bugs Siegel and revealed the whole Nevada group and the New York forces in an interesting relationship to one another. Smiley was Siegel's debt-collector. In Siegel's role, he used threats.

Here we have a very undesirable criminal alien on our hands, and McGranery, unlike those predecessors who used the tax and postal laws to punish political opponents for misdoing of a much different sort, meekly folds his hands. He says he can do nothing about it. If this meant

Questions — Answers

Q—What record was set this summer by the ice-breaker Eastwind?

A—It steamed within 508 miles of the North Pole this summer. This is believed to be the farthest north point ever touched by a ship under its own power.

Q—What is the origin of "pot-boiler" used in connection with books?

A—It refers to an artist or writer who turns out a piece of work for a quick profit and not with the idea of creating anything of artistic worth. The main concern for such an artist is to provide for his own living, that is, to keep the pot boiling.

Price Ceilings Suspended

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government today suspended wholesale ceilings on pork products. The action was announced by the Office of Price Stabilization while officials of the agency were meeting with meat industry representatives in an effort to determine whether retail ceilings on beef can be rolled back. Price Stabilizer Tighe Woods had advised Congress last week that he intended to suspend wholesale pork ceilings. Pork has been selling well below ceilings and is in ample supply. Ceilings are based on a percentage mark-up and vary with each wholesaler. In most places the deeper parts of the ocean are colder than the surface, but in the Arctic, ocean water is warmer far below the surface.

World-Wide Drive To Increase Bible Reading Slated

The Kingston Ministerial Association is participating in a world-wide campaign from Thanksgiving to Christmas to increase Bible reading, it was announced today.

A concerted drive to obtain several million persons who will read from the Bible each day will be launched Thursday, according to the Rev. Forrest R. Prindle of the Reformed Church of the Comforter.

Frank Elmendorf, a local layman supporting the Bible reading effort, stated, "We should make full use of this opportunity to enlist more people to read the great treasures in the Bible. These readings are without note or comment and should benefit anyone regardless of religious affiliation."

World-wide Bible Reading, of which President Truman is honorary chairman, was observed last year in 38 countries. The President has declared, "The Bible remains, after the lapse of all the centuries since it came into being, the greatest book ever written. The Bible has an ever increasing claim upon us. It is a unique and incomparable work."

World-wide Bible Reading was inaugurated by the American Bible Society nine years ago. It has steadily grown until over 14,000,000 copies of the reading list of great passages are distributed annually. In addition, the list was copied in at least 22,500,000 press and magazine printings.

Giving Thanks

Editor, The Freeman:

One day in the year is observed for prayers of Thanksgiving for numerous blessings that we shouldn't take for granted. Let us concentrate on a few phrases in the first person, that we should speak from our hearts as thankful Americans to Almighty God.

1. I am thankful that I have been given an opportunity to be educated in America.
2. I am thankful that I live in a land where everyone may salute the same flag and vote, regardless of race.
3. I am thankful that I live in a country governed by democracy rather than by force.

4. I am thankful that I live in a land where there are people who possess real sympathy for the oppressed of foreign countries who have gone through horrible experiences.

5. I am thankful for the opportunity of realizing my highest aspirations in a country where the future is bright.

6. I am thankful that America is using her potential and leadership to promote better understanding among all nations through the United Nations.

7. I am thankful that the youth of this country are being trained to realize the tremendous responsibilities that we must pass on to them, which our parents passed on to us, to keep our nation happy and free.

8. I am thankful that I live in a country where I can attend the church of my choice without bias or persecution.

These words I have uttered are founded on our precious Bill of Rights, they deserve our support because there are elements who would seek to undermine these principles on which our constitution is founded.

You may disagree with a man but you cannot challenge his right to express his views in a democracy.

Therefore each and everyone of us are responsible to our government for the moral and material backing of all free institutions in America.

Let us be thankful by doing our bit in this progressive humanitarian, civilized country.

Sincerely yours,
EDWIN J. HIGBY

Draft May Hit 19s

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Selective Service may begin drafting 19 year olds soon, but definitely not before the end of January. An official told a reporter today that surveys of the manpower situation in the nation are being assembled to provide an up-to-date picture on how many 20 year olds still are available for the draft. State Selective Service directors will come here next week to discuss their problems with national officials, he said.

Achievement night was held at Lake Katrine Friday night with 10 members of the Hurley Busy Bees attending.

Certificates and pins for last year's work were awarded to Faith Gersback, Jo Ann Maxwell, Enid Goetichius, Doris Schenck, Nancy Hutton, Marie Schoeps, Carol Lawrence, Elizabeth Harter, Joan Kolodziejski, Mimi Basch and Janet Lockwood.

Enid Goetichius and Nancy Hutton have received checks for their entries in the state fair.

Other special awards in the form of silver pins donated by business concerns were awarded to Faith Gersback for dress review and garden, to Enid Goetichius for dress review and home ground improvement and to Nancy Hutton for garden work. Four of the Hurley Busy Bees attended a pie-making contest at the high school Saturday. Faith Gersback, Enid Goetichius and Nancy Hutton received blue ribbons for apple pies and Doris Schenck received a red ribbon. Miss Gersback and Miss Goetichius will represent Ulster county at the fruit show in January.

Judge—I would advise you to stay married to your husband. Divorce Client—Oh, what do you know about marriage anyhow?

Two men decided to fight a duel with pistols. One of the men was very, very fat, and when he noticed how thin the other man was, he got pretty excited.

Fat Man—I'm twice as big a target as he is! I ought to stand twice as far away from him as he stands from me.

The thin man agreed, but somehow they couldn't work it out. So at last the fat man's second said: "Second—Take it easy. I'll fix this."

Taking a piece of chalk from his pocket, he drew two lines down the fat man's coat, leaving a space between them.

Second (to thin man)—Now, fire away. But, remember, any hits outside the chalk lines don't count.

The prisoner was giving evidence in his own behalf and making a bad job of it. At last the judge stopped him. Judge—You are lying so clumsily that I would advise you to get a lawyer.

Council Committees

The KHS Student Council has formed a series of committees to work out proposed projects in order to promote smoother functioning in its various undertakings, it was announced today.

Committees are being formed with students who are not elected members of Student Council. This is another branch of the Council.

The following consist of the various committees and the students chosen to be on them: Assembly Committee, Nan Shurter, chairman; Chris Brown, Florence Reon, Jean Rylance, Joanne Lee and Peter Steketee. Chairman of publicity committee is Pleurette Reon with her assistants from Journalism Class including: Frank Horowitz, Carol Morrissey, George Telepas, Lou Perry, Dame Rumor members who also help on this committee are Joan Wilson and Lynda Sulko.

Point system has its chairman, Don Kivus with Art Harder, Sandy Galate and Pat Cullum, Barbara Warnecke, chairman of the Bulletin Board, relies on Betty Ortlieb, Fred Renninger, Maggie Jackson, Robert Reed for her help. The award committee consists of Harold Carlson, Sylvia Smith, Nancy Sylvester, John Edinoer and Joe Suarez. Heading the marshals is Frank Frank, Court committee is led by Jacqueline Hallenbeck and helpers, Gail Kias, Norman Rosenblatt, Edwin Rosenthal, vice president, and Joe Stein and Diane Johnson are joint chairmen of the Penny Carnival committee. The art committee consists of Francis Schuman, Evelyn Ruhmann, Helen Baker, Alja Avenis, Ligid Wensko and Kenneth Kouhoup.

Talk on Colleges

During the last two months many colleges have sent representatives to the Guidance Department at Kingston High School to interview students who are interesting in attending college. These men answer any questions that the students may be doubtful about pertaining to the college they wish to attend.

Representatives have come to Kingston from Syracuse, New York University, Union, Tusculum, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Green Mountain Junior College, Tufts, Hamilton and La Salle Junior College.

Coming within the next few weeks will be representatives from MIT, Marlborough and Keuka.

Library Council

Members of the Library Council under the direction of Miss Isabelle C. Malone, nominated their officers at a recent meeting. They were as follows: Elaine McMahon, president; Claire McMahon, vice-

He's Certain Most Teachers Loyal

Buffalo, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Board of Regents is investigating "with diligence and with determination," possible subversion among teachers, but is preserving "the essential freedom of the inquiry and discussion," according to John Platt Myers.

But the chancellor of the University of the State of New York told the convention of the New York State Teachers Association last night he was certain "an overwhelming majority" of New York's teachers were "loyal and devoted citizens."

The association awarded Myers its eighth annual Governor Alfred E. Smith award for conspicuous service to public education at a banquet attended by 850 delegates. Dr. Harvey M. Rice, retiring association president and president of the Buffalo State Teachers College, presented the gold medal.

Officers Elected

Kenneth A. Myers, head of the music department in the Johnson City schools, was elected president.

Other officers named were Earl L. Vandermeulen, Jefferson, first vice president; Mrs. May Henry, Yonkers, second vice president; Carl W. Baisch, Kenmore, third vice president, and Mrs. Helen P. Maney, Geneva, fourth vice president.

At an earlier session yesterday, the State Director of the National Education Association said local school systems needed $5 million dollars more in state aid.

James A. Cullen of Mt. Vernon said state laws putting 56 cities of under 125,000 population under a two percent real estate tax limit for school funds put a burden on those cities.

He said Mt. Vernon and Salamanca, among others, were almost to the limit and hard put to provide school funds.

Cullen recommended the tax limitation be raised to 2½ per cent rather than have the cities impose alternate taxes, such as sales taxes.

Register Carries 'General'

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower will be President of the United States next year, but in the Social Register he will still be a general of the army. The register—society's blue book—came out yesterday with its 1953 edition and failed to note Eisenhower's promotion by the American electorate. The book continued to list him at his New York address and made no mention of the White House in Washington, his address after Jan. 20. Although the register is for the next calendar year, a spokesman for the publisher said Eisenhower "isn't President yet" and could not be listed "any other way."

Some authorities believe that Captain Kidd was not a pirate, but a victim of political intrigue.

Journalism Club

Going into full swing at its first meeting this week, the Journalism Club, under the administration of Miss Agnes Scott Smith, elected officers and named a committee to plan the program for the year.

The club officers were named as Carol Tremper, president; Mary Jo O'Reilly, vice president and Leo Henderson, secretary.

The chairman of the committee to plan the program for the year was named as Elaine Barton with her assistants to be Gloria Perry, Marilyn Alcon, Hermaine Perkarisky and Carole Rose.

In the near future the club will begin handling stories, advertisements and helping out with Dame Rumor.

Clubs

Divided into four parts, the high school Language Club is composed of German, Latin, French and Spanish groups, three of which elected officers for the following year.

Spanish Club under Miss Mildred Kinschum, selected the following for their officers: Richard Gendreau, president; Marilyn Alcon, secretary and treasurer.

Latin Club with Miss Gladys Nickerson as adviser elected Robert Kullmor and Myron Epstein as consules and Jane Gunter as scribe.

German Club with Miss Ilse Selmer as adviser named Barbara Churn, president; Norman Rosenthal, vice president, and Eline Grady, secretary and treasurer.

FTA Names Officers

Future Teachers of America are off to a good start by electing the following officers at a meeting held Nov. 17: Esther Schaffer, president; Betty Ellsworth, vice president; and Ann Griffin, secretary.

Betty Ellsworth was appointed chairman of the program committee. Working with her are Regina Whipple and Dorothy Maines.

Sharon Crowell was appointed chairman of the publicity committee with Madeline Barnovitz and Rozanne Gershuny working with her.

Junior Red Cross has elected two girls, Joanne Davitt and Phyllis Hathmaker, to head their organization. Amelia Kites was elected secretary and Sue Paulus, treasurer. Mrs. Dewitt is acting as faculty advisor. Members of the club will canvass the home-rooms Tuesday and Wednesday for contributions to the Red Cross fund. When a student donates he will receive a pin and membership card and if the home-room contributes 100 per cent it will receive a Red Cross sticker to display on its door.

Grange News

Ulster Unit

Highlight of the Dec. 3 meeting of Ulster Grange will be the discussion of the prize contest for cash prizes to be given by the National Grange Monthly as announced in the November issue.

Mrs. Ben Williams, home economics chairman, will explain the rules and give complete details. The prize of the winner will be duplicated and awarded to the grange to which the member belongs.

First prize will be $100, second prize 50, third and fourth prizes $25 each. There will also be five prizes of $10 each.

The contest requires entrants to complete the sentence, "I like dry yeast because..." in 25 words or less. Mrs. Williams will show grange members the latest methods of dissolving active dry yeast, will explain its many advantages and will give the members tips to help them in finishing the sentence. Those unable to attend the meeting can secure details of the contest from Mrs. Williams, Ulster Park.

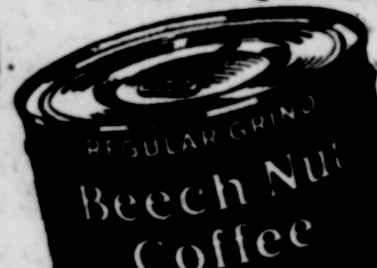

All entries must be mailed and postmarked no later than midnight, Dec. 15. Address entries to Food Editor (Contest), National Grange Monthly, 29 Worthington street, Springfield, Mass. Include the entrant's name, address and grange.

Youth Jamboree

The Grange Youth Jamboree will be held at 8 p. m. Friday, Nov. 28, at the Rosendale Grange Hall. It is open to all county youth. It is for the purpose of getting acquainted, games, music and dancing.

Participating in the program will be Lake Katrine, Patroon, Milton Homowack, Mt. Tremper and Plattkill Granges. The Po-mona youth committee is in charge of the program. The committee is composed of Dan Barnhart of Stone Ridge, chairman, Alice Brown of Rosendale, Nathaniel Phillips of Tilton and Gertrude Kopaskie of Plattkill.

Adams to Become Assistant to Ike

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—New Hampshire's Gov. Sherman Adams is stepping into one of the toughest—and potentially one of the most influential—jobs in the Eisenhower administration.

President-elect Eisenhower announced yesterday he will name the 53-year-old Adams, who served as his campaign chief of staff, to the post John R. Steelman has held under President Truman.

Full title of this $20,000-a-year job is "Assistant to the President."

That doesn't tell the whole story. The number one presidential assistant actually is the eyes and the ears of the man who sits behind the President's desk—the liaison man between the President and most of the federal departments and agencies.

It's this man who transmits White House policy to the cabinet members and others who are expected to follow it. And it's the same man, with quick, frequent access to the President, who keeps the Chief Executive informed about what the various officials and agencies are doing.

Is Sought After

Sometimes the job is referred to as "assistant President." This isn't accurate, however, because the President can't delegate authority to an assistant or to anyone else except under the strict limits provided by the constitution.

But the assistant can make recommendations, and in the normal course of events he has more opportunity to make them than anyone else. Consequently the assistant to the President is a man much sought after in official Washington. He gets invited to all the best parties.

This job hasn't been in existence very long. It evolved from the World War 2 post of war mobilization director, which President Franklin D. Roosevelt established in an effort to keep peace among various agencies whose differences of opinion and public squabbling were slowing the war effort.

Expects Many Changes

Adams told a news conference in New York yesterday he expects a good many changes will be made in the agencies under his jurisdiction.

He said studies are now being made, and that consideration also will be given to the report of the Hoover Commission on "whose recommendations were never put into effect."

Adams also said one thing still under discussion is just what active part Vice President-elect Richard Nixon will take in administrative work.

Rosenberg Hearing Set

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg get a hearing tomorrow on their motion to have their convictions thrown out. Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld set the hearing yesterday after turning down their request for a stay of execution. The two are scheduled to die in Sing Sing prison the week of Jan. 12. They were convicted March 29, 1951, of giving atomic secrets to Russia during World War 2. They have appealed frequently, but the U. S. Supreme Court turned them down several days ago. They now are in Sing Sing.

To Visit London

London, Nov. 25 (AP)—The foreign office announced today Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia will arrive on a six-day state visit next March 23.

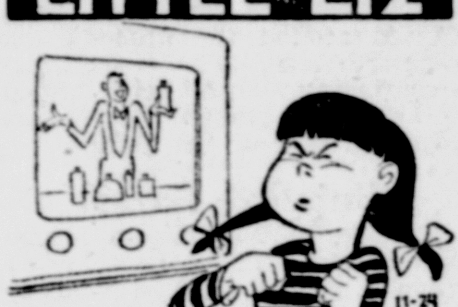

Optimism Is Expressed

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 25 (AP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny's doctors expressed optimism today after the world-famed nurse rallied slightly last night from an attack of cerebral thrombosis. Physicians attending the 66-year-old polio specialist had said she was probably fighting her "last battle" after she was stricken last Friday and her condition worsened. But yesterday she was strong enough to manage her first smile in days for Charles Carson, U. S. consul at Brisbane, who drove 85 miles from the capital to her home at Toowomba to see her.

Debate Is Interrupted

Paris, Nov. 25 (AP)—Shouting demonstrators briefly interrupted the French National Assembly's debate today on a bill to give an amnesty to some classes of offenders convicted of collaborating with the Germans during the World War 2 occupation of France. The assembly was about to adjourn for lunch when about 30 people in the public gallery started shouting: "Down with the traitors, down with the collaborators!" They sang the Marseillaise and the Partisans' song as guards hurried them from the chamber.

Eisenhower Has Plan to Reorganize Executive Office

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—The New York Times said today that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is working out a plan for reorganizing the executive office to bring its various units under over-all supervision of a special assistant. This assistant would function as a secretary general of the Office of the President, a Washington dispatch to the Times reported. Such a reorganization has been strongly recommended to Eisenhower, and completion of the plan for it was reported last night to be in sight, the story added. When asked about the story, Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, told a newsman: "When we have any appointments or anything, we'll announce it." Hagerty said he could not even say "no comment" on such reports. Adams Is Mentioned A Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent said today that Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire reportedly has been named by Eisenhower as assistant president. "The title of the job Gov. Adams has agreed to take is that of assistant president," the correspondent, Charles Ashley, said in a broadcast from Boston. He added: "It's the same sort of job that John R. Steelman has now. The job, however, corresponds more broadly to that given Jimmy Byrnes by President Roosevelt or the one held by Harry Hopkins when he was at the height of his activity." Early Supporter Adams was one of Eisenhower's early supporters, served as the general's floor manager at the Republican National Convention, and later was Eisenhower's campaign manager. His term as governor runs out this year. Ashley said "an unofficial but reliable report" reaching Boston was the basis for his broadcast. He said the report was that Eisenhower offered Adams the position, and "Gov. Adams has accepted." Under the present organization, coordination of the various offices is informal—at best. The assistant to the president, a post now held by John R. Steelman, is the closest thing to a secretary general. Petroleum is made entirely of hydrogen and carbon.

30-Car Parking Lot Now in Use

New Paltz, Nov. 22—Mayor Robert Reid has announced the opening of a new 30-car parking lot. He urged that it be used for off-the-street parking on Mohonk and Hasbrouck avenues for those whose cars are parked all day. He hopes that all will use it and make the crossing of streets by the children easier, especially in bad weather when skidding is a hazard. Anyone parking for a length of time in this area is urged to use it. It is open to the public. The parking lot was filled and rolled and made ready by the joint efforts of the village and college. Fill was used from the excavation for the new college library. The drainage pipe used to fill the ditch on Hasbrouck avenue which now forms the entrance to the lot. The lot is on the space south of the municipal building. The village workers under the supervision of Walter Luczak have planted 12 spruce trees between the parking lot and the municipal building. Trees also have been planted around the firehouse on the north side. The landscaping is continuing with fill being hauled to level the ground around the sides and rear of the garage.

Miniature Bazaar

New Paltz, Nov. 22—A miniature bazaar will be held by St. Joseph's school children Wednesday, Nov. 26. The bazaar will be held in the St. Joseph's Center on North Chestnut street from 1 p. m. through the afternoon. Lunch will be served and parents may come with their children to visit the bazaar. Many items were made by the children but other items will also be available as school closes at noon for Thanksgiving.

Couples Meet Sunday

New Paltz, Nov. 22—Dr. Elmer Bostock, former minister at the New Paltz Methodist Church, will speak to the Couples Club Sunday night. Dr. Bostock will tell of his European trip in a talk entitled, "Cycling Through Europe." He will speak at 8:30 p. m. and interested persons are invited to hear him. The meeting is called for 8 p. m. The business meeting will be held first to accommodate Dr. Bostock. Mrs. Frank Elliot and Mrs. William Jay will be hostesses.

Cub Scouts Meet

New Paltz, Nov. 22—The Cub Scouts held their first pack meet Friday night in the music room of the Campus school. The Thanksgiving theme was postponed because the newly reorganized dens had not sufficient time to prepare for it. Mrs. William Heidgerd led the boys in singing group songs. The Cubs played games in the gym and during their absence Cubmaster John Harrison talked to the parents about their part in cubbing. The boys brought as their ticket of admission a memento toy which will be donated to the VFW toy collection drive. Den 2, which has been meeting regularly this fall, displayed samples of their handwork, totem poles and Indian drums.

Girl Scout Leaders

Hold Regular Meeting
New Paltz, Nov. 22 — The bi-monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders Club was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Jack Erman. Mrs. Harold Elsbree conducted the meeting. Mrs. Richard Jones will be in charge of the next meeting. In order that there may be a consistent policy throughout the local organization the group discussed registration instructions and received copies of the latest Scout bulletins. A movie on group government was shown and discussed. Troop leaders present were Mrs. Elsbree, Mrs. John McAusland, Mrs. Paul Kurtz, Mrs. Richard Green and Mrs. Erman. Committee members Mrs. Loren D. Campbell and Mrs. William Heidgerd attended. Also present were assistant troop leaders Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. George Langwick, Miss Mary Hedberg, Miss Barbara Mayo, Miss Lenore Schwartzman and Miss Barbara Heagney. Girl Scouts who helped with the Book Fair tea Friday, Nov. 21, were June Mertine, Elaine Mertine, Mary DuBois, Kathy Vett, Linda Langwick, Ruth Heidgerd, Carolyn Hogan, Elaine Richards, Anne Cooper and Mary Jacobson. Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Mrs. Elsbree's Brownie group, Troop 49, two new members were welcomed, Jewel Gardiner and Cressida Oliver. Miss Lenore Schwartzman was welcomed by the Brownies as their new assistant leader.

TILLSON

Tillson, Nov. 24—The following students of the upper grades at the Tillson school have been placed on the honor roll: Grade 8, Carolyn Engert, Anne Hill and Barbara DeWitt; Grade 7, Joanne Engert; Grade 6, Sandra Phillips and Richard Segelken; Grade 5, William Dunn and George Taylor. Students having a perfect attendance record so far this year in Grades 5 through 8 include Carolyn Engert, Joanne Engert, Patricia Hill, Judith Menzel, Sandra Phillips, Margaret Sutherland, Larry Born, Richard Serenbetz, Glenn Sutherland, George Taylor, Robert Van Keuren and Fred Bornemann. In the lower grades, one through four, perfect attendance has been attained by Maureen Born, Patricia Codrington, Shirley Coddington, Diane Deyo, Kathleen Dunn, Margaret Fasbender, Pamela Gale, Marilyn Harvey, Patricia Markle, Cheryl Phillips, Carol Rowe, Barbara Sutherland, Irene Tsontarides, Pamela Wooten, Richard Born, Ronald Born, William Dippel, Russell Douglass, Eugene Frost, John Modjeska, Thomas Rowe, Gary Sutherland, Howard Sutherland and Roger Yarter. In observance of Thanksgiving this year, there will be no school next Thursday or Friday. Sauce for Meat Loaf Want an easy sauce for meat loaf? Blend about three tablespoons of the drippings from the meat loaf into a can of celery soup; season with a little finely grated onion and a few tablespoons of chopped parsley before heating.

gerd attended. Also present were assistant troop leaders Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. George Langwick, Miss Mary Hedberg, Miss Barbara Mayo, Miss Lenore Schwartzman and Miss Barbara Heagney. Girl Scouts who helped with the Book Fair tea Friday, Nov. 21, were June Mertine, Elaine Mertine, Mary DuBois, Kathy Vett, Linda Langwick, Ruth Heidgerd, Carolyn Hogan, Elaine Richards, Anne Cooper and Mary Jacobson. Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Mrs. Elsbree's Brownie group, Troop 49, two new members were welcomed, Jewel Gardiner and Cressida Oliver. Miss Lenore Schwartzman was welcomed by the Brownies as their new assistant leader.

Keen Interest Shown In Recent Book Fair

New Paltz, Nov. 22—The closing day of the successful book fair and tea was enjoyed by visitors from 3:30 to 5 p. m. The Campus School library has been a busy place this week and many have enjoyed browsing among the excellent display of books. No figures will be available for a while but the number of books bought is heartening to those who fear that television and radio are making non-readers of children. Reading is holding its attraction as evidenced by the complete absorption of the children as they selected their books. Mr. George Langwick was chairman of the tea. Mrs. Willard assisted as co-chairman. Mrs. John Jacobson was in charge of the Girl Scouts who assisted and Mrs. Richard Jones and Mrs. George Bishop served on the committee also. Miss Ruth Walker, Mrs. Robert Pyle and Mrs. Charles Langwick presided at the tea table.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

Better-Informed Stockholders

The other day an executive of a corporation was honored by his associates. It marked the 25th year of conscientious service to his company. The after dinner speeches touched upon the well-rounded character of his life.

He was the head of a beautiful home; he was a church leader; and every community interest that promised social, economic and religious betterment had his attention.

What made all this possible? An intelligent, efficient application of his talents and energies for the company in whose employ he had been for a quarter of a century. Here was a sound, solid man working for a sound and solid firm.

It takes a lot of sound and solid corporations in America to furnish our 155-million people with the goods and services needed for our high standard of living. And just as the record of this man was an open book to the executives who praised him, the night of the dinner, so is the record of every worth-while enterprise open to the inspection of any investor.

Probably 5,000 words were spoken of this executive's loyalty, efficiency, devotion to work and imagination by his associates. Even strangers at the dinner got a striking picture of him. And, had one chosen to do so, the range of his salary for two and a half decades could have been ascertained.

Investment normally connotes cold logic. It needn't and it shouldn't. Corporations grow; they pay wages and taxes and dividends; they give testimonial dinners to worthy workers.

Now, whether an investor lives in Seattle or Tokyo or Calcutta or West Berlin or London, he can learn all about the character, the earnings, the dividends, the welfare rating of any enterprise operating in Detroit, Pittsburgh, Chicago or any other place.

Few, few stockholders know enough about the enterprises in which they have invested their dollars. This should not be. Any investor who has $1,000 in a corporation should learn about his company.

And, as for new stockholders—especially in these transitory days—they should write down in black on white, or red on yellow, the per share earnings and dividends for 10 or 20 consecutive years.

The best purchase and sale prognostications on common stocks are made with past earnings and dividend records at hand. Any company that has paid dependable dividends for 20 or 25 years is as reliable as the executive who was honored at the dinner.

A simple formula runs like this: Suppose a company has paid a total of $40 in cash (or its equivalent) dividends in 20 years. That is at the rate of $2 a year. And suppose that stock is available on the New York Stock Exchange at $33 1/3 a share.

Should it be bought? Well, at that price the yield, on a 20-year basis, is 6 per cent. And it should not be too difficult to determine if the company is to grow with the country. With interest rates on good bonds around 3 per cent, such a 6 per cent yield common stock is attractive.

Few investors thinking of buying common stocks do enough paper work. And by that I mean writing down the entire economic record of the company.

May I suggest this? Starting in 1953, let every stockholder owning $1,000 or more of stock in any corporation write down a 200, 300 or 400 word record of his enterprise. Have it typed and put it into a loose leaf notebook. Revise the copy whenever necessary.

A motto for 1953: Better informed stockholders.

Bumper Tape Has Safety Sanction

Richard Kalish, head of the Ulster County Safety Council, today commended the current Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce Lite a Bumper campaign as "a very positive and significant approach" to the problem of street and highway accident prevention.

Kingston Jaycees will be stationed at the Empire Market parking lot, Broadway and Albany avenue, today from 7 to 9:30 p. m., for the convenience of local motorists who desire to have the safety tape applied to their bumpers.

Visible for more than a half mile at night, and seen 75 per cent more readily than tail lights, the reflective tape is guaranteed to last two years.

The campaign, which started last week, will continue locally for a month.

Film Festival to Open In New York Friday

Woodstock, Nov. 24—Sidney Berkowitz, chairman of the Second International Art Film Festival in America, to be held at the Hunter College Auditorium, New York, Nov. 28, 29 and 30, has announced that films from many countries will be included. Sponsored by the American Federation of Arts, the Film Advisory Center and the Woodstock Artists Association, the festival will include 35 new films on art selected from films of Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, France, Germany, Greece, India, Italy, Mexico, Netherlands, Norway, the United States of America, the United Kingdom and Russia.

Works by both the Old Masters and many of the leading contemporary artists will be featured in the films, including Rouault, Toulouse-Lautrec, Vermeer, Manet, Ensor, Moore, Tokey, Avery, Canova, Degas, Durer, Renoir, Evergood, Poor, Raphael, Utrillo, Hogarth, LeBrun, Lachner, Botticelli, Van Gogh, Miro, Goya, Chagall and Rousseau.

A wealth of subjects from the earliest art period to the present time are included in the films ranging from modern painting to Etruscan art. Other film subjects are African sculpture, pre-Columbian art, Medieval manuscripts, Flemish primitives, Dutch Medieval sculpture, Chinese art, German wood cuts, Japanese prints, abstract art, Romanesque sculpture and cathedrals, Gothic churches, contemporary American painting, Roman mosaics, prehistoric masks, etchings and engravings, painting on film, children's drawings, porcelain figurines and murals.

Woodstockers who are assisting Berkowitz on the festival committee are William J. Eisner, secretary-treasurer, Ivan Black, Arnold Blanch, William Hand, Dr. William Hitz, Stewart Kline, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Carl Maas, Fletcher Martin, Herman More, William Pachner and Ralph Wiskiser.

Herbert Wyman has returned from a trip to Chicago where he visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farnham of Glenview.

Woodstock, Nov. 25—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Leshen and children and Mrs. Anna Kamen will spend Thanksgiving in New York with Mrs. Anna Leshen.

Faggi to Show
Woodstock, Nov. 24—Alfeo Faggi will have a one-man show of drawings, gouaches and water colors at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, in February. There will be 28 pictures in the exhibition.

Provides Refreshments
Woodstock, Nov. 24—Through an error it was reported that Leon Carey would provide refreshments for the ladies' night of the Square Club to be held January 15 at Deanes. The refreshments were provided by Carey at the last Square Club meeting last Thursday night.

Exhibition Opens At Smith Gallery
Woodstock, Nov. 24—Opening the winter season, Mollie Higgins Smith launched a small but representative show of paintings, drawings, etchings and lithographs, many of them ideal Christmas gifts. In the black and white section, John Taylor's Banks of the Sawkill is a fine study of a scene in this area and Andree Ruellan's City Market, Charleston, is an appealing study, as is her La Rue des Bon Enfants, somber yet exquisite in detail.

Henry Mattson's houses beside a railroad track conveys another familiar view of this locale in interesting arrangement in oil, and Andree Ruellan's Paris Roof is a characteristic low-keyed gouache. Lucie Bayard's deftly handled Bouquet is unusual for its depth and sparkling color.

A new conte and chalk drawing by Alfeo Faggi arrests attention as do several drawings and lithographs by John Taylor and Andree Ruellan which have been previously seen at the gallery.

The show will be on view at the gallery until Dec. 24.

Guild Holiday Fair Will Open Friday
Woodstock, Nov. 25—The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen opens its 14th Holiday Fair this year the day after Thanksgiving with gifts for sale from 50 cents to 50 dollars, all made by Ulster county craftsmen. Among the

Says Atom Energy Appropriation Is Beyond Need

Auburn, Nov. 25 (P)—Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) said yesterday the Atomic Energy Commission's current appropriation was "way beyond their need" and that congressional budget chiefs "must find out more" about this organization.

The 72-year-old congressman, who is expected to head the House Appropriations Committee in the 83rd Congress, made the statement in announcing results of a study of expenditures of five governmental units.

Taber said his study based on expenditures for the first four months of the fiscal year which began July 1, showed that appropriations for the agencies "could readily be lower" on an annual basis.

Included were the AEC, the Defense Department, the Agriculture Department, the Mutual Security Administration, and the Interior Department.

Strict Economist
Taber, long an advocate of strict economy in government, said the AEC had available $5,536,000,000 for the 1952-53 fiscal year.

In the first four months, the commission spent 600 million, he said, and observed that this rate would total only $1,800,000,000 or less than one-third of the appropriation.

"This indicates that the backlog of appropriations is way beyond their need," Taber said. "We, very evidently, must find out more than we have been able to in the past about this organization."

The congressman said he understood the Defense Department was expected to ask Congress for 50 billion dollars for the 1953-54 fiscal year. "This obviously is ridiculous," he asserted.

Makes Comparisons

Taber made these comparisons of the annual spending rates of other departments during the four months with appropriations for the year.

Defense—Annual rate of 42 1/2 billion against currently estimated total expenditures of 46 billion.

Mutual Security—Annual rate of $3,381,000,000 against appropriations of $12,631,000,000.

Agriculture—Annual rate of 600 million, against an appropriation of $2,177,000,000.

Interior—Annual spending rate of 675 million, against an appropriation of 939 million.

Charge Is Dismissed

A charge against William J. Mulcahy, 19, of Poughkeepsie was dismissed by Justice of the Peace William J. Upright of Highland when Mulcahy produced proof that he had insurance as required of drivers under 21, state police reported today.

Mulcahy had been arrested for allegedly not having such proof with him when his automobile ran off Route 9W and into a sand bank near Highland Friday evening, troopers reported.

Ava Picks Up Germ

London, Nov. 25 (P)—Beauteous Ava Gardner rested in secret in a nursing home today, trying to get over what her film company described as a "sort of dysentery," she picked up on location in Africa. "This illness isn't serious," the official of Metro-Goldwyn Mayer explained, "but it has left Miss Gardner looking weak and not her best." The luscious brunette actress picked up the "tropical germ" while movie making in the Mau Mau country of Kenya, with Clark Gable. Gable was not affected. She was flown back to London and entered the nursing home for treatment while shooting on the film, "Mogambo," went on without her.

Typhoon Heads North

Manila, Nov. 25 (P)—A typhoon sweeping Luzon in the northern Philippines curved northward today and headed for the island cluster between Formosa and Luzon. The storm center, with diminishing winds of 70 miles an hour, was located by the Manila Weather Bureau about 30 miles south of Tuguegarao, northeast Luzon, Tuesday afternoon. Another Pacific storm spent itself in the Batanes and Babuyan island group north of Luzon, the bureau reported. No damage or casualties were reported.

Students Demonstrate

Seoul, Nov. 25 (P)—Thousands of Korean students turned out today in a warm-up welcome demonstration for President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower. City officials said more than 20,000 boys and girls took part. This was just the preliminary. The big doings are scheduled for Friday—whether Eisenhower has reached Korea or not. One group of students carried a large painting of Eisenhower punching Joseph Stalin. Another group carried banners which read "We All Like Ike."

Will Return to Korea

Scott Air Force Base, Ill., Nov. 25 (P)—Maj. James Jabara, America's first jet ace, is returning to combat in Korea at his own request. Headquarters of the air training command here announced today the 29-year-old Wichita, Kas., officer will report to Camp Stoneman, Calif., Jan. 6 for "further assignment to the Far East Air Force." The beribboned Jabara two weeks ago officially requested return to combat for "completion of a normal tour." The normal tour for fighter pilots in Korea is 100 missions.

Soldiers Are Released

Berlin, Aug. 25 (P)—Three American soldiers picked up by the Russians while rabbit hunting were released today after two days in Soviet captivity. They said they were questioned sharply about military matters but otherwise "very well treated." The trio was nabbed while hunting in a wooded area on the outskirts of Berlin Sunday. A German girl, Ingeborg Rickens, who was arrested with them, also was turned loose today.

Taft Mentions Choice to General For 3 Cabinet Posts

Columbus, O., Nov. 25 (P)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, powerful leader of the Republican Senate Policy Committee, says he has given President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower his recommendations for the three cabinet posts not filled.

Taft did not make the names public at a news conference in Columbus or in his Ohio Farm Bureau Convention speech last night.

Gen. Eisenhower has not named his secretary of labor, secretary of commerce or postmaster general.

Taft said he assumed Arthur Summerfield, chairman of the Republican National Committee, would be head of the Postal Department.

The senator said he "acquiesced in many" of the six cabinet appointments made by the President-elect but the men he recommended were not picked for the jobs.

He said he recommended Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.) as secretary of the treasury, but emphasized that because he did not recommend the man Eisenhower selected, George M. Humphrey of Cleveland, it did not mean "I wouldn't recommend him for a job."

Sen. Byrd asked earlier that his name not be offered for any cabinet post.

Silent on Names
The senator said he submitted the names of other Ohioans for cabinet positions and other high level jobs. He would not say whom he named.

Taft said he could "see no reason why there cannot be complete harmony" with Eisenhower and his cabinet.

He praised the nomination of Ezra Taft Benson of Salt Lake City, Utah, to the secretary of agriculture's post. Benson was a Taft supporter in the bitter pre-convention struggle between the senator and the general.

"I certainly joined in the recommendation," Taft said, "but I can't claim him as my recommendation."

Zoning Hearings Today, Tomorrow

The laws and rules committee of the Common Council will hold public hearing tonight on four applications for zoning changes on Albany avenue near the city line.

The changes from residential to business zone designation is sought by James E. Sneed for a property at 455 Albany avenue; Mildred F. Cates, 451; John W. Martin 487-89 and John B. Pfeleghaar, 482-86.

Two other applications for business zone designations will be given hearings tomorrow night. They are by Doreen Scott for a property at 321 Lucas avenue, and Agnes K. Salay, for 17 Pearl street.

Alderman Abram D. Relyea, chairman of the laws and rules committee, will conduct the hearings which will open each night at 7:30.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

Driving through monotonous countrysides, as we did last week on our way to Florida, one has plenty of opportunity to "ruminate;" indeed, one can do little else. By turning a knob on the dashboard world-wide news is available every hour or so.

Our news, of course, has been overloaded with the President's doings and appointments. Being contrary, the Ruminator got to thinking more and more of the appalling international problems confronting the new administration than of the interest in domestic affairs and cabinet members.

Before me as I write (and perhaps I should add that these columns will be written five days before publication instead of three, to meet mailing requirements)—before me, to repeat, are several European "letters" and bulletins which emphasize the world's problems from viewpoints of observers who are not so closely tied to our recent election as we are.

Perhaps one of the outstanding characteristics of European viewpoints is the distinct disappointment felt in "high circles" over General Eisenhower's landslide victory.

When Eisenhower left France to battle for the Republican nomination he had hosts of "well-wishers" among the NATO nations. Strangely enough this admiration completely faded away shortly after the conventions and it seemed that all western Europe wanted Stevenson as our next President. The motives seem far-fetched to us. For some reason there has been an extraordinary warped view held concerning Taft, McCarthy and some others in the Republican party, which seems to have blinded countless Europeans to the splendid aggregation of leaders in the Republican ranks.

Nonetheless, western Europe is holding its breath and appears definitely worried over the outlook. That is point one that stands out in foreign correspondence.

Secondly, the fear of serious economic slumps in Great Britain and on the continent receives much attention among writers on international affairs. "Everyone" apparently takes it for granted that the post-war and defense boom is over—or is about to end. There is an "unless" noted in most dispatches, unless America comes through with continued aid. The American aid most desired is more "trade"—that is, more spending by Americans for European products—rather than mere dollar grants. However, even grants will be acceptable, you may be sure, if it would ward off slumps.

THE RUMINATOR 2
So there are economic worries abroad, and somehow observers feel that Eisenhower will be less helpful than Stevenson would have been. We Americans might prefer to say that the new Administration is likely to approach these problems more sanely, keeping always before them the thought that our own economic strength cannot be further weakened—or there will be a general collapse (which Mr. Stalin is waiting for).

Turning away from economics, another lengthy "intelligence" report enumerates (somewhat frighteningly) a long list of "sore spots" with which President Eisenhower will have to contend—and concerning which for the next two months or more nothing can be done. There is a 60 day void (longer, if you allow for the time required for a new group to get hold of the reins) during which vital international problems will remain in abeyance.

Korea, of course, is number one on all observer's lists. And there is little expectancy that Eisenhower will be able to accomplish much about the Korean impasse. However, it is brought out (from this international viewpoint) that it is the Kremlin strategy "to reach Paris via Peking," to quote exactly. In other words, some keen observers believe it is definitely Stalin's policy to "conquer" Asia first, and move westward thereafter. As we are "bogged down" in Korea—and as other Atlantic powers are likewise caught in other Asian areas—the situation in the east must be resolved somehow. Accordingly, the importance of Eisenhower's survey in Korea, Japan, and Formosa (and perhaps elsewhere in east Asia) cannot be underestimated, even if the probabilities of early solutions seem remote. Something must be done, in time, and the Ruminator for one believes the incoming President is correct to familiarize himself with the problems by a personal visit.

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR JOB ?

Is the company you work for successful? Is it growing? Is it making money? Are its products or services highly regarded?

If you have faith in the future of your company and would like to be an owner, chances are that you can. Hundreds of thousands of employees have become part owners of the companies for which they work by buying shares in those companies.

The company you select needn't be the one you work for. Over a thousand corporations have qualified for listing on the New York Stock Exchange. They are engaged in all kinds of businesses. Many of their names are famous in the business world... names you hear daily.

You can buy as many shares as you want, from one to hundreds. The number of shares you own measures your part of the company—your part of the dividends it may pay—the ownership risks you have assumed.

In America, private business is public business with ownership shared by millions of people. There is no lock on the door. Information about how you can become a share owner is yours for the asking at the office of any member firm of the New York Stock Exchange.

As Pegler Sees It

only a return to honest enforcement of the laws, by contrast with the use of grand juries to bring political opponents into line, Mr. McGranery might deserve applause. But if he actually can't persuade the White House and/or the State Department to put it up strong to the Canadian government, he at least could recommend another course.

The proposition here is that a criminal alien must be allowed to circulate without embarrassment worse than restriction to the roomy jurisdiction of a particular federal court. In Smiley's case, that cruising radius was widely enlarged by special permission of the judge to go to Houston, Tex., where he seems to have found congenial company, as he very easily could in Houston, and have his luxurious being.

Now, obviously, as long as well-behaved, patriotic American youth are shipped to onerous life in bleak surroundings in reward for civic virtue, it is most inappropriate that the likes of Smiley should be let to rove at will.

Whoever has investigated immigration and deportation matters these last 15 years knows that it is futile to inquire how many other social vermin we have at large for the sole reason that some friendly foreign country won't accept them back in deportation. The information is either withheld or balled up beyond understanding. A Smiley would not hesitate overlong to reach a susceptible and needy bureaucrat in Ottawa, Paris or Mexico City with a few thousand dollars. It is deplorable that such things can be, but bribery is not a rare resort of crooks.

We should make arrangements to put such criminal aliens in prison camps, pending execution of our courts' decrees of deportation.

The problem has another side. The Eisler brothers, Hans and Gerhardt, German refugees who gnawed the hand that fed them, after Eleanor Roosevelt had personally wheedled the State Department to let in Hans and his wife, were glad to be deported. We sent them back to Germany where, ever since, they have been doing us all possible harm, which may be more or less than we suspect.

In this case, deportation was too good for the ingrates and might be harmful to us. Our law therefore should be revised and McGranery should propose to let us create a new Dry Tortugas for the indefinite detention at the pleasure of the United States of not only those who can't be deported, like Smiley, but others, like the Eislers and Earl Brow-der's wife who might regard deportation to Russia as a sentence to the workers' paradise. Mr. Mc-

Granery's good faith is not here impugned, but a memorandum to this effect to Congress would be good insurance.

Ahavath Israel Ball Entertainers

The Three Tapateers and their Taps in Precision act, will be included in the 16th annual stage show and ball sponsored by Congregation Ahavath Israel Wednesday night, Thanksgiving Eve, at municipal auditorium. The Tapateers have appeared in a series of one-nighters with Count Basie, Tommy Dorsey, Tiny Bradshaw and Charlie Spivak. They also have appeared at many of the nation's leading nightclubs. The gala holiday eve show also will feature the music of Raymond Scott and his TV Hit Parade show, songs by Dorothy Collins and Billy Vine, master of ceremonies.

Junior Marrieds Hear Talk on Furniture

At its regular meeting last Thursday members of the Junior Married Women's Club of the YWCA were given an opportunity to present their individual furniture problems to H. F. Butler of Butler Furniture Company.

Mr. Butler stressed the importance of careful buying, especially in the matter of spring construction in upholstered pieces, pointing out that good construction means many years of service. He also explained the method of removing stains and scratches and the technique of refinishing any type of wood.

President Vincent Guido announced that the YWCA project, hanging of the greens, would be held in the near future. A Santa Claus workshop is being formed under the direction of Mrs. John Ford and Mrs. Arnold Peterson, assisted by Misses Kenneth Heppner, Joseph Scholer, Morgan Turner, Lloyd Finholt, George Heppner, Jansen Fowler, William Weishaupt and Charles King.

A film, Air Spotters, will be presented at the next meeting by Mrs. George Dewey Logan. The puppet show, previously cancelled, will be presented in the near future.

Hostesses for the evening were the Misses Jack Gill, Gerard Geuss, George Heppner and Jansen Fowler.

STORE'S MISTAKE

A young woman writes me: "I ordered a leather billfold for my boy friend for Christmas and had it monogrammed with his initials. When the clerk asked me what his initials were I told him R.D.K. (for Richard David King). When I went in to pick up the billfold, I found it was marked R. Large D in the center and K at the end. I told the manager that I thought the marking incorrect and that the large initial should have been that of his surname. He told me that I was wrong and refuses to do anything about it. I still think that I am right and would like a confirmation from you so that I can show it to him."

You are right. The large initial in the center is always that of the surname. To give this prominence to any other initial is incorrect, and the owner of the store should certainly make good.

Answering the Impertinent

Dear Mrs. Post: When a person has just gone through a very unpleasant experience—such as getting a divorce—and friends as well as acquaintances insist upon asking a lot of personal questions which the one concerned does not care to answer, what is the proper way to handle this situation without seeming rude?

Answer: She turns the conversation to another subject if she can. If the inquisitor persists, it becomes necessary to say, "I'd rather not talk on that subject." (If that does not end the matter there is nothing to do but leave the questioner and go elsewhere.)

When He Calls

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered proper etiquette for me (a young woman) to return a young man's telephone call, if I was not at home when he called?

Answer: It would depend upon how well you know him or whether he left word for you to call him—in either case it would be all right to call. But if you merely received a message that John Jones had called and he is not someone you are in the habit of talking with a great deal, you would wait for him to call again.

Is it proper to give invitations by telephone? This is one of 35 questions most frequently asked by readers. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her in care of The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Well-known Harpist To Appear in Local Orchestral Concert

Eileen Malone of Victor, first harpist with the Rochester Philharmonic and Civic Orchestras, will appear with the 50-piece Rochester Civic Orchestra in a concert to be presented at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 29, in the Kingston High School auditorium.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at O'Reilly's, Rossi's, the Governor Clinton Hotel, YWCA, Kingston City Library, any member of the board of managers of the Children's Home, Mrs. Louis Kepler, ticket chairman, Mrs. Richard Shultz, Mrs. Alexander B. Shufeldt, Mrs. Larry Bogert, Mrs. Kenneth Davenport and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever.

Graduate of Eastman
A graduate of the Eastman School of Music, Miss Malone studied in Europe with Marcel Tournier of the Paris Conservatory and with Marcel Grandjany in New York, joining the orchestra here in 1936. At the same time she also became a member of the Eastman faculty.

As soloist she has played numerous recital programs throughout the east and makes frequent radio appearances in various ensembles.

Auxiliary Reports

$100 From Dinner

Stone Ridge, Nov. 25—The ladies auxiliary of the Town of Marbletown post, American Legion, held its regular monthly meeting in the basement of the Reformed Church last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Addie Graham, president, presided. It was reported that approximately $100 had been realized from the election day dinner and thanks were expressed to all who contributed to make it a success.

Mrs. Amos Stokes was chairman of the dinner. It was reported that approximately $100 had been realized from the election day dinner and thanks were expressed to all who contributed to make it a success.

Rehabilitation work this year will be with the newly opened Veterans Hospital in Albany. In previous years such work was done with the Castle Point Hospital. Glass jars have been placed in local business places so that the public may have a share in the work. The Stone Ridge Grange has already sent a generous donation, it was reported.

Mrs. Addie Graham and Mrs. Frank Altieri will spend some time in the hospital helping to distribute the gifts, it was announced. Gifts must be new and of not less than $1 in value. The gifts are displayed before the Veterans and they select those deemed most appropriate for their loved ones. With the gifts go wrapping paper, postage and personal help in preparing and mailing the packages. The merchandising club is again functioning. The next meeting will be held in St. Peter's Parish Hall, Stone Ridge, and will be a covered dish supper and Christmas party. Members are invited to bring their children.

Carroll Glenn to Play Here

CARROLL GLENN

Brilliant Young Violinist to Appear In Kingston Concert Monday Evening

Carroll Glenn, the brilliant young violinist from South Carolina, whom critics name the "outstanding woman violinist of her day," will be presented by the Community Concert Association at 8:30 p. m. Monday, Dec. 1, at the Kingston High School auditorium.

When Miss Glenn was ready to begin a public career, she was not merely a good violinist; she had proven her superior virtuosity by outstanding scholastic achievements and high critical praise. In addition she had poise, charm, and radiant youth to offer. Yet when this career-minded young woman approached concert managers she found they subscribed to the theory that female instrumentalists were often a commercial liability. Discouraged but undaunted, Carroll set out to reverse this belief.

Miss Glenn had first begun to play the violin when she was scarcely four. At the age of seven she traveled 65 miles from her home for weekly lessons at the University of South Carolina with Mme. Felice de Horvath. Accepted by Juilliard Institute at the age of 11, the youngest student yet enrolled at that most famous of all American music schools, Carroll made her New York debut at Town Hall at the age of 16.

Wins Major Prizes

Miss Glenn is the only musician who has won all four of the major prizes for weekly lessons at the University of South Carolina with Mme. Felice de Horvath. Accepted by Juilliard Institute at the age of 11, the youngest student yet enrolled at that most famous of all American music schools, Carroll made her New York debut at Town Hall at the age of 16.

Married Eugene List Miss Glenn's marriage to Eugene List during the brilliant pianist's wartime service formed a unique musico-domestic alliance.

Betrothal Told

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Beth Winters, 14 Prince street, daughter of the late Frederick C. Winters and Mrs. Laura Winters Parlow, to Private Harry Koch, U. S. Army, Camp Breckinridge, Ky., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav C. Koch, 139 West Chester street. A wedding in the near future is planned.

Celebrates 101st Birthday
Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 25 (AP)—Christian Hanke of Faaborg, Denmark, celebrated his 101st birthday today. Taking part were his four brothers—aged 91, 90, 88 and 79. A fifth brother died recently at the age of 97.

University of California scientist, Dr. Harold B. Gotaas, professor of sanitary engineering, reports there are still some 6,000 American communities without a public water supply and over 9,000 without a sewage system. "And there is scarcely a city in the United States today in which the atmospheric pollution conditions are not worse than they were a century ago," said Dr. Gotaas. Increased sanitary problems are the result of urban and suburban growth, industrialization, increased travel and changing living conditions, he said.

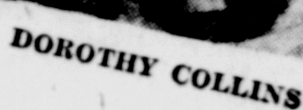

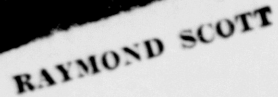

A special Thanksgiving Eve service will be held Wednesday at 7:45 o'clock at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck, the Rev. Lars H. Lillestolen, pastor, said today. The pastor will preach on Now Thank We All Our God. Music will be prepared by Herman LaTour and Miss Marion Marquart. Mrs. Carl Knaust will be the soloist.

High School Gridders Make Bid For Burke's Fifth DUSO Title

Student Interest At Record Pitch

Interest among Kingston High School students for the traditional Turkey Day clash with Newburgh Free Academy is reaching fever pitch, Athletic Director G. Warren Kias said this morning.

"We are accepting reservations for the eighth school bus," Kias said. "That's the best record ever and reflects the great interest in the game."

Meanwhile a monster pep rally has been scheduled for Wednesday morning between 10:50 and 12 noon in the school auditorium and is expected to reach every student in the school.

The Cheer Leaders, attired in KHS varsity uniforms, will present a skit and there will be cheering and singing and speeches by Coach Kias, Coach Burke and Principal John Martin.

Squad Is Fit
The news from the battle front is good, Coach Burke said. All players, with the exception of one, are physically fit and the squad is "up" and eager for a crack at the Goldbacks.

The DUSO League championship hangs in the balance in this game and the Maroons, who boast of six straight triumphs, have the psychological advantage of knowing that even a tie would catapult them into their sixth DUSO championship. They tied for the crown on two other occasions.

Have Good 'Book'
Having scouted Newburgh in the Middletown and Beacon games, the KHS coaching staff has a pretty good "book" on the Goldbacks. The Academicians had to open all the stops in their losing effort against Beacon and unless Coach Stan Hemingway comes up with some new stuff the offense will not vary too much from the 1951 campaign.

Coach Burke, never one to concede defeat, was calm and confident yesterday. He said he ex-

Bowl Fever Caused Flop Says Maryland Coach; Prexy Says Tatum Talks Too Much

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Bowl fever was the cause of it all, says Maryland head coach Jim Tatum in agreeing with its president that poor coaching brought defeat in the once-mighty Terrapins' last two games.

"I'm sorry that I could not be the leader that Dr. Byrd thought should be," Tatum said at Jacksonville, Fla., last night.

That was his comment on University President N. C. (Curly) Byrd's criticism of Maryland football coaching "from November on." Tatum said Byrd was "exactly right" and continued: "For three weeks our team has not been able to do anything right. I spent most of my energy being concerned whether or not we were going to a bowl."

"I didn't think Maryland should go to a bowl as it was against the conference rules.  Yet I knew the boys wanted to go and as coach I didn't want to be the man to stop them. I'm afraid I spent all my mental energy and a great deal of my time being concerned with this instead of with Ole Miss and Alabama."

Came the Foldup
Until two weeks ago, the Terrapins' record sparked — 1952 Sugar Bowl champions, winners of 19 straight games and ranked number two in the nation behind Michigan State, the team it beat three years ago to vault into big-time football.

Their coach, Waterloo, a double dose: First it was Mississippi 21-14 and, last Saturday, Alabama 27-7.

Against this backdrop, Dr. Byrd — a former player and coach — went before the Washington Touchdown Club yesterday for a speech and question-and-answer session.

Byrd not only complained about coaching at Maryland. He also said Coach Tatum talks too much. Of college presidents in general, Byrd said they try to de-emphasize football without taking into account their schools' desire for good teams.

And he indicated Maryland is dissatisfied with the Southern Conference membership it would regain next year after a one-year suspension for going to the Sugar Bowl last season in violation of a conference ban on bowls.

Top Buyer
Columbus, O., Nov. 25 (AP)—Leonard J. Buck, Far Hills, N. J., horseman, was the nation's leading purchaser of harness horse yearlings in 1952, his first year in the sport. Buck's Allwood Stable paid out $127,000 for six colts and a filly in its first season of operation. The season for yearling sales began in September at Delaware, O., and finished up last week in Harrisburg, Pa.

Charles says he will weigh about 185 for the fight while Bivins is aiming at 183. The fight will be broadcast and telecast nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting System (10 p. m. E.S.T.)

Title Bout Set If Charles Wins

Chicago, Nov. 25 (AP)—A crack at the heavyweight title was the prize dangled today before Jimmy Bivins and Ezzard Charles, who will meet in a 10-round heavyweight battle Wednesday night in the Chicago Stadium.

James D. Morris, International Boxing Club president, announced that the victor will be matched in June with the winner of the heavyweight title fight between champion Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott. The Marciano-Walcott fight is to be held in March at a site to be selected.

Charles is trying to become the first heavyweight champion to regain his title. Bivins, a spoiler of note who has defeated several champions during his long career will be gunning for his first shot at the heavyweight title.

Charles says he will weigh about 185 for the fight while Bivins is aiming at 183. The fight will be broadcast and telecast nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting System (10 p. m. E.S.T.)

Angels Make Bid For YMCA Title

Harry's Angels make their bid for the YMCA Autumn League basketball title when they meet the powerful Wiltwyck Motors tonight at 7:30 on the Y planks.

Beaten only once this season, the Angels can wrap up the crown with a victory. Wiltwyck Motors must win in order to create a playoff for the "A" division title.

The cream of the city's basketball crop will appear in the rival lineups. The Motormen will rely on such stalwarts as Tom Morrissey, Ferrell McElrath, Vince Peck, Big Bill Klein, Schoonmaker, "Red" Murray and Percy Greene. Going for the Angels will be the loop's highest scorer—George Carpozis—Andy Juhl, George Telepas, Charlie Marable, Ward Dunham and others.

Syracuse Goes Wild Over Bowl Invitation

Syracuse, Nov. 25 (AP)—Syracuse University was returning to normal today after a night of wild celebrations for its Orange-Bowl-bound football team and Coach Floyd "Ben" Schwartzwalder.

Pandemonium broke out late yesterday with the announcement that the Orangemen had been signed to battle Alabama in the New Year's Day clash at Miami. Whistles and sirens sounded moments later. Cheering students tied up downtown traffic and cavorted in the aisles of theatres.

But the highest outburst of joy came last night at the New York Central railroad station when the coach arrived from New York city.

Three thousand of the school's 9,500 students jammed the station area to welcome Schwartzwalder, who had been in New York to speak at a football writers' luncheon.

Tulsa in Gator Bowl

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 25 (AP)—Tulsa University will be signed Friday to meet the University of Florida in the eighth annual Gator Bowl football game here Jan. 1. This was announced today by Joe Livingston, member of the selection committee, who said Gator Bowl officials would be in Tulsa Friday night for the official signing. Livingston is sports editor of the Jacksonville Journal.

Sports of the Day (IN BRIEF)

Football
Chicago—Athletic directors of the Big Ten Conference voted to send co-champion Wisconsin to the Rose Bowl to oppose Southern California. Syracuse accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day against Alabama.

General
East Lansing, Mich.—Charlie Eastpazolli of Georgetown set a record in winning the four-mile NCAA cross country run in 19:36.7.

Wisconsin and Syracuse Land First Post-Season Bowl Games

Michigan State Still Rates No. 1

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Michigan State's undefeated football powerhouse which closed out its season by walloping Marquette Saturday was voted the nation's No. 1 college football team today for the seventh straight week.

The tenth and final Associated Press weekly poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters will be conducted next week. If Coach Biggie Munn's Spartans can hang on to their edge over Southern California and Georgia Tech, also unbeaten, in the last balloting, it will mark the first time Michigan State has been acclaimed the top team in the land.

Michigan State, which socked Marquette, 62-13, for its 24th victory in a row, came close to the No. 1 rating in 1951—but had to settle for second ranking behind Tennessee.

There was little change in the top 10 teams in this week's poll, ninth of the season. The major change was the absence of once-favored Maryland, which dropped with a thud from eighth place to fifteenth after Alabama hung it on the Terps, 27-7.

Alabama, which was 14th a week ago, moved into the No. 8 spot as it looks ahead to its date in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1 against 16th-ranked Syracuse.

Michigan State polled 88 first-place votes out of 149 cast, and rolled up a total of 1,400 points.

Violets, St. Mark's Win Rec Contests

The Violets shaded Cherry Bros., 47-46, and St. Mark's trounced the Greenbacks, 55-49, in yesterday's Recreation League contests at the MJM gym.

Jack Houghtaling and Ronnie Brandt paced the Violet victory, with 14 and 11 points respectively, to offset the fine play of Bucky Hornbeck who scored 16 and Orville Giles who dropped 10.

Charlie Johnson rimmed 17 points for St. Mark's and Josh Cody hit for 10. Frank Reis with 14 and B. Fisher with 12 led the Greenbacks.

The scores:

Cherry Bros. (46)—Massa f 6, Amato f 8, Hornbeck c 16, Cherry g 6, Giles g 10.

Violets (47)—Houghtaling f 14, Culjak f 6, Woods f 1, Peters f 2, Brandt c 11, Smith g 4, Keating g, Al Short g 7, Lenahan g 2.

Greenbacks (49)—Hirons f, Bechtold f 4, F. Fiore f 2, Reis c 14, Spino g 7, Fisher g 12, Balf g 12.

St. Mark's (55)—J. Cody f 10, Anderson f, Armstrong f 2, Johnson c 17, Holland c 2, Marable g 5, Henderson g 4, Jackson g 8, Miller g 7, Davis, Neal, Van Dyke.

Southern Pines, N. C.—Sammy Sneed fashioned a five-under-par 67 for a total of 135 at the end of the second round of the $5,000 Julius Boros Open golf tournament to hold a two-stroke lead.

Upstaters Picked For Orange Bowl

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Wisconsin and Syracuse finally have struck it rich.

The Badgers' from Wisconsin and the Orangemen from upstate New York landed lucrative bowl bids yesterday to complete the lineup for college football's big post-season games on New Year's Day.

Wisconsin's "sweating out" period was the first to end. The Badgers, Big 10 co-leaders, were chosen to face Southern California's unbeaten Trojans in the Rose Bowl.

Four hours later, Syracuse, which never has played in a "big" bowl game, was selected as Alabama's opponent in the Orange Bowl. The easterners drew the nod after Navy reluctantly turned down the plum.

Here's the major bowl picture, with the Southeastern Conference providing half of the teams:

Rose Bowl—Southern California (9-0) vs. Wisconsin (6-2-1)
Sugar Bowl—Georgia Tech (10-0) vs. Mississippi (7-0-2)
Cotton Bowl—Texas (7-2) vs. Tennessee (7-1-1)
Orange Bowl—Alabama (8-2) vs. Syracuse (7-2)

Wisconsin and Purdue finished the season tied for the Big 10 championship with identical league records of 4-1-1. This left it up to the Big 10 athletic directors to pick Southern Cal's opponent.

The directors decided that Wisconsin was the best bet to give the Big 10 its seventh straight Rose Bowl triumph over the Pacific Coast Conference's best. Wisconsin's over-all record probably swayed the voters. The Badgers won six, lost two and tied one game while the Boilermakers of Purdue won four, lost three and deadlocked two games.

Big 10 Confident

Big 10 Commissioner Tug Wilson disclosed Wisconsin was voted in by a clear majority and said: "I strongly believe Wisconsin will make a fine showing in the Rose Bowl. But I will say that they face the toughest competition in the whole bowl series."

Badger Coach Ivy Williamson said: "We are thrilled with the selection. In Southern California, we'll be playing the best west coast team since the bowl pact was started. It is a good and

Rose Schatzel Pounds 590 and C. Lapine Hits 587 Series in Women's Major Loop

A couple of the pros—Rose Schatzel and Charlotte Lapine, rocked the timbers for counts of 590 and 587 respectively in last night's Women's Major League action at the Bowldrome.

The New York State singles and all-events champion combined solos of 197, 178 and 215 for her 590, while Mrs. Lapine topped highest single of the session—226—and added 171 and 190 for her 587.

Four other aces crashed the "500" circle and three others missed by margins of less than a mark. Dot Rowdum posted 539, Elizabeth Schoonmaker 212-538; Jessie Burnett 213-532; and Beverly Port 528.

Helen Broskie shot 498; Adabelle Markle 497, Tess Moss 496 and Winnie Overfield 481. Jake's Grill slammed a 904 middle set.

Teams scores:
SRS 2, Jake's Grill 1; Sportsmen's Park 3, Bert Bishop 0; Jones Dairy 3, Williams Lake 0.

Hank Dart Tops Minor
Johnny's Drive-In took undisputed possession of first place in the City Minor with a pair of wins over Joe Epstein's, while Hank Dart was compiling the top series of 202-216-179 for 597.

Joe Maurer fashioned the runner-up count of 215-583 and 255. Secretito topped 214-210-579 as 25 Secretito earned spots in the "500" bracket.

Other top maple mashers included B. Mericle 566, Dom Clausi 559, Ralph Dumenigo 213-558, Joe Chick 204-555.

Frank Devine 545, Amelio Berrardi 538, Len Freed 201-531, Earl Christiana 529, Bill Murray 203-523, George Brown 200-521, Leo Mellert 518, Tom Parker 514 and Ed Smedes 512.

Snead Stays Hot In Boros Tourney
Southern Pines, N. C., Nov. 25 (AP)—With 18 holes to go and a two stroke lead over the nearest rival, Sammy Snead appeared in line for the $1,000 winner's check to be awarded tonight at the conclusion of the 54-hole, $5,000 Julius Boros open golf tournament.

Snead was nine under par going into the final round after a 67 yesterday, to go along with an opening round 68, which left him at 135. That was two strokes in front of Pete Fleming, Hot Springs, Ark., pro, now registering in third place at 138 was Lou Barbaro, Deal, N. J. Sharing fourth place at 140 were Doug Ford, Yonkers, N. Y., and Pete Cooper, White Plains, N. Y. They had a stroke lead on Al Bessellink, Grossinger, N. Y.

Fights Last Night
(By The Associated Press)
Syracuse, N. Y.—Ike Williams, 148, Trenton, N. J., stopped Pat Manzi, 145, Syracuse (7); Chico Vejar, 147, Stamford, Conn., stopped John (Sonny) Luciano, 144, Miami, Fla. (6).

Brooklyn—Harold Johnson, 176, Philadelphia, outpointed Minno Veldez, 210, Havana Cuba (10).
Boston—Willie James, 212, Boston, knocked out Art Henri, 189, New York (7).

Award for Caldwell
New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Princeton's football coach Charlie Caldwell will receive the annual New York Touchdown Club award for his contribution to football, Capt. John McEwen, president of the club, said yesterday that Caldwell will be presented with the award at the Hotel Astor Dec. 11 at the club's annual dinner.

The University of Texas scored 181 points in its first seven football games this season. That's just one less than the 1951 team made in a full season.

Wes Westrum, catcher for the New York Giants, is employed by a ball bearing company at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., during the off-season.

ATTACKERS—Halfback Frank Brady, left, is one of the big guns Navy will uncoil against Army in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, Nov. 29. Quarterback Jimmy Lear, center, whose passing snapped Maryland's streak, again will pitch for Mississippi State at Oxford. Halfback Jim Sears will continue going both ways for Southern California at Notre Dame. (NEA)

Murphy Gives Tips On Oil Heaters

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, continuing the winter warnings of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, today stressed that a portable heater requires careful handling.

In selecting a new heater, he said, buyers should insist on evidence that it is listed by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. This means that the device has been tested for safety.

Users should follow the manufacturer's directions, especially those dealing with fuel, the chief said.

An oil heater should never be filled indoors, or refilled or carried when lighted. Also, he said, it should be placed on a level floor to reduce the danger of tipping, and should never be placed near curtains, furniture or other combustibles.

Taber, Ike's Aides

Organization's headquarters yesterday. He talked privately with Trygve Lie, secretary general, and Lester Pearson, Canadian president of the UN General Assembly.

The conference was held only a few hours before the UN Political and Security Committee heard Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, reject a compromise, offered by India, on the repatriation of war prisoners taken in Korea.

The controversy over the disposition of prisoners is the key point at issue standing in the path of truce talks.

No information was disclosed about Eisenhower's talk with Lie and Pearson, but observers believe the UN officers gave him the background on the dispute.

Back in his hotel headquarters, Eisenhower:

1. Talked at length with Nixon. The senator later told reporters he expects the normal duties of a vice-president may be expanded to include some administrative work. "The general indicated he wanted me to take an active role in expediting legislation," Nixon said.

2. Met Benson for the first time. Benson, 53, said his designation for secretary of agriculture came as "a great surprise." He referred reporters to Eisenhower's comment that he had been enrolled in a citizens organization supporting the GOP nomination of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft commented last night: "I think it is an excellent appointment."

But the senator added: "I can't claim him as my recommendation."

Lt. Dulles Is Alive

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Marine Lt. Allen Macy Dulles, nephew of John Foster Dulles, who was listed by the Defense Department as killed in action in Korea, is alive, family associates said today. The secretary of his father, Allen W. Dulles, said a late report from Tokyo said that young Dulles is alive in a hospital. He was reported critically wounded nine days ago. His father is deputy director of the central intelligence agency. His uncle, John Foster Dulles, was named last week by President-elect Eisenhower to be secretary of state of the new administration.

Civil Service Exams

The U. S. Civil Service Commission today announced examinations for auditor, industrial cost audits and internal audits, and resident in hospital administration. The auditor positions pay $4,205 to $10,800 a year. Resident in hospital administration positions pay $2,200 a year. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the commission's local secretary, William P. Barry, main post office in Kingston.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Wife's Statement

In Tucson, Ariz., Cascio's 44-year-old wife declared "anyone who does anything to undermine his nation deserves whatever happens to him."

"This thing has just made me sick. We never got along. We were divorced once and I foolishly married him again."

She said her husband left for Korea early this year. She had not heard from him since June.

Maj. Matthew Stanhope, Whiteville, N. C., who arrested Cascio said the stocky, heavy-set sergeant submitted meekly.

"The guy gave me no argument," Stanhope reported. The major is provost marshal at the field where Cascio served.

He described Cascio as about five feet two, short, heavy and swarthy.

Specific Charges

The court martial specifications charge Cascio with violating Articles 80, 81 and 134 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. All deal with classified information.

He also is charged under Article 92, which forbids illegal transactions in military payments certificates.

The latter specification charged Cascio with illegally obtaining the MPCs from a Korean civilian.

There was no inference that the deal was in any way connected with the alleged conspiracy to sell the secret data on the Sabre jet.

Army and air force officials in Washington said they recalled no other instance in the Korean action of such charges being placed against an American serviceman.

President Might

House yesterday but by a miscue it did not reach Truman's desk until (1) the President had left his executive offices for the day and (2) the price chief had told a news conference he was quitting after three months in office.

Woods told reporters the present controls law "is weak and must undergo a very serious overhaul by the Congress to take out some of the special interest amendments and substitute more equality of sacrifice among all elements of the economy."

He said "it seems all I've done since taking this job is to sign orders for price increases and I haven't enjoyed the role."

Woods did not make public his letter of resignation. He said that would be up to the President.

Woods Has Plans

Before leaving the Office of Price Stabilization this weekend Woods said he hoped to:

1. Decide, probably tomorrow, whether retail beef ceilings can be rolled back in keeping with lower prices now being paid farmers for live cattle.

2. Issue orders suspending controls on men's boys' and women's and misses' clothing. The only exception in these suspensions probably will be children's and infants' wear that has been selling at or near ceilings. Most other apparel has been selling well below ceilings.

Woods' successor—if a successor is named—probably will face immediately the necessity of dealing with sharp additional cuts in OPS personnel, now numbering around 5,800.

One price official said these reductions in force, due to cuts in appropriations, may entail abolishment of the 13 OPS regional offices throughout the country. This would mean that the approximately 60 district offices would operate separately and report directly to Washington.

Rejection Seen

maneuver to force the Soviet hand.

Tightens Screws

3. Moscow has tightened the screws on the Communist Chinese and is dictating to Peking on every step of the Korean discussions. This impression grows: With the continuing heavy burden of the Korean War, differences between the Chinese Communists and their Russian allies have been coming more to the fore.

Vishinsky told the United Nations—dashing truce hopes in the process—that only the Soviet resolution, embodying terms impossible for the United States, was acceptable to Moscow in the Korean issue. This involves a general 11-nation commission to handle all Korean questions, including the repatriation issue. Red China and Red North Korea, as well as the Soviet Union and Communist Czechoslovakia, would be on this commission. It could result in making the Korean peninsula a bristling armed camp for an indefinite period.

Illustrates Maneuver

The Vishinsky pronouncement illustrates the whole Soviet maneuver which began in the summer of 1951 with the Moscow proposals purportedly looking toward an armistice. It indicates that having gambled desperately and unsuccessfully to secure the whole Korean peninsula for the USSR, the Russians intended to perpetuate a stalemate costing Moscow little and the United States a great deal. It could also serve as a constant irritant in the relations among the free nations allied in the defense of South Korea.

Thanksgiving Service

The annual Thanksgiving Day service will be held at Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, at 10:30 a. m. The Rev. Ernest L. Witte will preach a sermon on the theme "The American Christian Gives Thanks to God. Festival selections will be featured by the organist, Miss Irene Price. The public is invited.

Will Go to London

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 25 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will leave by plane for London late today. Aides said he is interrupting his personal direction of Britain's part in the Korean debate to attend a British Commonwealth economic conference which opens in London Thursday.

Southwest Gets Wintry Weather

(By The Associated Press)

Wintry weather hit parts of the normally warm southwest today with icy blasts of sub-freezing cold and snow.

It was near zero in sections of Arizona and New Mexico early today. Snow fell in southeastern New Mexico and in northern Texas.

Snow and rain pelted other areas of the Rocky mountains and the mid-continent. Temperatures dropped below zero in Montana. It was generally fair—and a little colder—in the east and far west.

Temperatures dropped to five above today in Winslow, Ariz., and Zuni Pueblo, N. M., while the low at Tucson, Ariz., was 36 above—only four degrees above freezing. It was 29 in Douglas, Ariz., and the minimum at Phoenix was 38. Coldest spots were in Montana, with lows of 5 below, and in parts of Wyoming and Idaho with readings of near zero.

Amarillo Has Snow

Snow continued during the night at Amarillo, Tex., with a fall of four inches reported. Falls at Roswell and Tucuman, N. M., measured three inches.

The snow belt extended from the upper Michigan peninsula southwestward through southern Minnesota, western Iowa, Nebraska, western Kansas and into northern Texas. In the Rockies, the snow line was from southeastern New Mexico to the Canadian border in Montana. Falls ranged from a trace to three inches in the plains states and from three to six inches in the mountains.

Heaviest rainfalls were in eastern Texas, Arkansas and parts of Oklahoma. Temperatures in Texas yesterday showed a contrast of below freezing in the upper panhandle and a reading of 80 degrees at Brownsville in the southern part of the state.

Mid-Air Collision

Salisbury, England, Nov. 25 (AP)—A Royal Air Force Valetta Transport and a jet fighter collided in the air today. The jet pilot was killed and at least three of the transport's crewmen were badly injured. The jet crashed in flames on the edge of a golf course. The damaged Valetta made a forced landing about a mile away on a farm.

Company representatives were John D. Schoonmaker of Island Dock, Inc.; S. D. Hiltbrant of the C. Hiltbrant Dry Dock Co., Inc.; Bernard Feeney of the Feeney enterprises and Jerome Healy, attorney for the companies.

Tax Agents . . .

fore they join a queue, and to divide them into lines for different categories of information, so that no one waits in line only to learn his question is being answered elsewhere.

5. As nearly as possible, personnel assigned to information booths and as monitors should be "female revenue agents" and they should be rotated frequently "to avoid the risk of normal irritation stemming from having to answer similar questions over and over again."

Additionally, Winkle said these services have worked well in past years.

1. Provision of special rooms for taxpayers who would like to make out their returns immediately after receiving instructions.

2. Assignment of revenue agents to big businesses with many employees or to banks, for on-the-spot tax aid.

3. Lectures in schools for students who earned money during the year to pay taxes.

And, Winkle said: "Revenue agents and office auditors assisting taxpayers should avoid themselves, in a discreet manner, of the opportunity to help train the taxpayers in how to file returns . . . The taxpayers should be impressed with the importance of retaining a copy of the returns (for use next year)."

Wintry weather hit parts of the normally warm southwest today with icy blasts of sub-freezing cold and snow.

It was near zero in sections of Arizona and New Mexico early today. Snow fell in southeastern New Mexico and in northern Texas.

Snow and rain pelted other areas of the Rocky mountains and the mid-continent. Temperatures dropped below zero in Montana. It was generally fair—and a little colder—in the east and far west.

Temperatures dropped to five above today in Winslow, Ariz., and Zuni Pueblo, N. M., while the low at Tucson, Ariz., was 36 above—only four degrees above freezing. It was 29 in Douglas, Ariz., and the minimum at Phoenix was 38. Coldest spots were in Montana, with lows of 5 below, and in parts of Wyoming and Idaho

Dulles May See Winnie
New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—A possible meeting between Prime Minister Winston Churchill, of Great Britain, and John Foster Dulles, U. S. secretary of state-designate, is indicated in an exchange of cables. The exchange over the weekend was released yesterday by President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters. Cabling congratulations to Dulles, Churchill said: "I shall look forward to talking things over with you."

Foreclosures Are Begun
Albany, Nov. 25 (AP)—Foreclosure proceedings are under way against more than 4,000 Albany property owners, who are behind in payments on paving and sewer improvement liens. Corporation Counsel Russell G. Hunt said yesterday that some of the liens were 50 years old. Albany county also is seeking to collect defaulted back taxes, some from the same property owners.

Suggestion Is Rejected
Tokyo, Nov. 25 (AP)—Japanese officials today rejected U. S. Rep. Joseph W. Martin's suggestion that Japan enter the Korean war. Martin, House Republican leader, made the suggestion as a passing remark in Washington, D. C. Today, at a press conference for foreign newsmen, a spokesman for the foreign ministry said Japan's participation in the fighting in Korea "is out of the question at this time." Yesterday, Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, in a major policy speech, said Japan is in no position to rearm.
